Village board leaves leaf burning ban at the altar

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Village Board, which was expected to pass an ordinance allowing leaf burning in the village, turned the idea down with Mayor Ray Toft casting the deciding "no" vote.

"I voted no because I don't like the idea of burning leaves all over town. If there were only one or two main places to burn leaves it would be okay," said Toft after breaking the 3-3 trustee tie.

Before the trustees and Toft cast their votes, resident Marilyn Shineflug made a presentation against the burning, listing the majority of Lake County municipalities that do not allow burning.

According to Shineflug, 15 municipalities enforce a burning ban, six allow it, and one municipality, Gurnee, is in transition with burn banning being considered.

Shineflug also told the board about several alternatives that were being used in other areas, such as a central leaf compost.

Trustee Don Amundsen asked that the vote be put on hold but the rest of the board denied that request. Amundsen, Rod White and Vern Barnstable voted for the ordinance which Village Atty. Ken Clark had ready to go. Trustees Ron Cunningham, Robert Wilton and Mabel Lou Weber put thumbs down.

Another denial made by the board at its meeting on Monday, after a public hearing preceding the regular meeting, was of the request to rezone property with 150-front footage on Tiffany Rd., owned by Wendy Smith, to R5 multiple.

Smith had also requested annexation to the village pending the R5 zoning change in order to build two four-family flat buildings.

Trustee Amundsen remarked that the village "has enough R5 zoning," and Wilton talked about the concern over connecting the utilities to the property.

A petition from surrounding land owners asking for the rezoning denial was handed in to the board after it had already denied the request.

Selecting the tree

Fire department gets dive gear, new firefighter

The Antioch Fire Dept.'s underwater dive team will be getting new diving gear costing almost $5,000.

The Antioch Village Board voted to foot half of the bill with the fire district picking up the rest of the tab.

Patrick Gannon, of 745 Blackman Terrace, who is already a certified firefighter was approved by the village board at its Monday meeting, as the newest firefighter at the Antioch Fire Dept.

In other business, the board heard a report from Trustee Vern Barnstable, chairman of public works and buildings, that the crosswalk under construction at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83 is almost complete.

New Wisconsin bar closing hours no border boozing bet

Since Tuesday all Wisconsin taverns have a uniform closing time of 2 a.m. on weekdays and 2:30 a.m. on weekends.

The law's intent is to keep Wisconsin drinkers from traveling from bars that closed at the regular 1 a.m. weekday time to other communities in Wisconsin that had a later drinking deadline.

One objection to the new closing hours raised surmised that it might send Illinois drinkers from bars that close at 1 a.m. to Wisconsin bars now open an hour later, starting the border drinking problem all over again.

Wisconsin drinkers have always been able to travel to Fox Lake, McHenry, Round Lake Beach, Winthrop Harbor, etc., and other northern Illinois areas that have later closing hours, although regular bars in villages like Antioch and Richmond had the same drinking hours.

Those late drinking hours in Illinois still outdo Wisconsin's new 2:30 a.m. closing, ranging from 3 a.m. in unincorporated parts of Lake County to 4 p.m. in places like Round Lake Beach.

Although there is no doubt that some Illinois drinkers may decide to head north to continue their drinking when bars in places like Antioch and Richmond close at 1 a.m., bets are that Illinois' later closing bars will get the biggest part of that traffic, keeping a new border drinking problem to a minimum.

Glorious 'Messiah' plays to half-empty St. Peter's

by FLORENCE BABUSEK
Guest reviewer

I slipped into the last pew at St. Peter's Church, planning to stay for no more than 15 or 20 minutes.

As I settled my belongings, I became aware of a few visitors already in their selected seats up front, the snap of musicians' instrument cases, a quiet conference between several Waukegan Symphony Chamber Orchestra artists in formal dress, polite shuffling of chairs and music stands.

There was time for me to notice the tall rise of scaffolding standing from aisle to aisle in several pews of the church, almost as a monument to renovation and the generous spirit of many donors. The church seemed uncharacteristically bare for such a festive occasion.

I had never attended a performance of the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" and had marked my calendar for Friday, Dec. 4.

Still recovering from a bout of flu over the Thanksgiving holiday, I was fading fast by the end of the week. I would be sensible and leave the church early, because I needed rest more than entertainment, or so I thought.

The full assembly of musicians, solo artists, and choral members with Waukegan Symphony conductor Dr. Lynn Schornick, filled the church sanctuary as the overture to Handel's masterpiece began.

I did not leave as planned. My fatigue turned to exhaustion. I thought of those who might have been there to fill the half-empty church. I regretted that they were missing our Ken Smouse's moving and dramatic tenor solos.

They did not hear Frank Pomponi's rich bass tones proclaiming, "I will shake the heavens," or Lee Starr's contralto of "good tidings to Zion," and Gretchen Stevenson-Poland's small stature disguising a glorious, full soprano voice proclaiming, "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion!"

The one-hour performance moved me even more deeply as I scanned the chorus of familiar faces, singers from our community, who had come together on this occasion to add their extraordinary talents to this quality performance.

The old, the young, the parents with sleeping babies, all rose for the Hallelujah Chorus finale. We applauded the beauty of the performance and the thrill of being there until our hands hurt.

Thanks to the artists, the Waukegan Chamber Orchestra, Persin and Persin Jewelers and Ken Smouse, I will remember clearly that I almost left early. . . King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, Hallelujah!

Sequoit wrestlers pin Zion

A good mid-week crowd was in attendance to see the Antioch wrestlers beat Zion-Benton last week. The freshmen won easily, 54-12, with junior varsity also coming out on top at 39-24.

Varsity edged by 32-31, winning some exciting matches. Coach Ted DeRousse said Zion was "a very physical team." The victory was clinched by Brandon Parkhurst's 7-3 decision. This made the score 32-13.

The varsity winners were Rich Cheterbok, 98, forfeit; Kep Fort, 119, tie; Bill Eves, 126, fall; Dave Shepard, 132, 9-7 decision; Brett DeRousse, 138, fall; Tim Sandrik, 145, fall;

Brandon Parkhurst, 155, 7-3 decision.

In a busy week, the Sequoits faced Stevenson there on Dec. 4, participated in two tournaments on Dec. 5, the freshmen at Grayslake and varsity at Stagg, and went to Mundelein on Dec. 10. The next home meet is Dec. 11 with Niles North.

Who's Who

Indus Gagnon of Antioch has been selected one of 29 Elmhurst College students to be included in the 1988 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Gagnon is a junior at Elmhurst majoring in music business. She graduated from Antioch Community High School in 1985 and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gagnon of Antioch. She is president of Lambda Sigma Psi.

Graduates

Second Lt. Dean W. Haviland, son of Michael J. and Rosemary Haviland, Antioch, has graduated from U. S. Air Force pilot training and has received silver wings at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. He is a 1986 graduate of Southern Ill. University Carbondale.

Immunizations

The Lake County Health Dept. will hold free immunization clinics for children from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at St. Peter's Church Hall.

Blecke, other educators say 'thinking' top priority

America's top educators have returned to their hometowns armed with eight recommendations for improving education in this country.

Teaching students "how to think" in a knowledge-based society must be among the highest priorities of American educators, according to the group of 100 outstanding teachers and principals. One of these is Antioch High School principal Art Blecke.

"We have to teach kids how to access information to get the most out of their learning," said Mary Mackbee, a principal from St. Paul, Minn. and a group spokesperson. "As one of our teachers put it, 'Children are not things to mold, but people to unfold.'"

The recommendations were announced by the group following five days of meetings and discussions. The list will be presented to President Reagan in an effort to stimulate nationwide improvements in education.

The educators represent all 50 states, the Dist. of Columbia, American Samoa and Puerto Rico and have been participants in the fourth annual "In Honor of Excellence" symposium sponsored by Burger King.

The group also underscored a need to stress personal and social values—such as work ethic excellence, teamwork, self-discipline, initiative and honesty—because of the changing American family structure.

"There was a period where we did slack off teaching human values because of public pressures," Mackbee said. "People felt that values should be learned elsewhere. Now, the responsibility to teach values is coming back to us because of the great amount of time that children spend in school."

The educators also are calling for great autonomy for teachers and principals to set their own standards of excellence and the methods to go about achieving it.

"Who knows better about what's going on in the classroom than the teachers?" said Bert Neumaier, the 1987 Connecticut Teacher of the Year from South Windsor and a group spokesperson.

"I believe that many teachers feel boxed in by the tremendous constraints put on them. For example, why can't we lift some of the restrictions on the kind of textbooks we use and the curricula we teach? I guarantee you'll see a tremendous change if the growth comes from the bottom up instead of from the top down."

The educators also point to a growing need for increased partnership with the business community. They recommend that the two groups work together to define expectations for graduates, as well as to define opportunities for students to learn in community settings.

"I think the answer to working with business is better communication about what business expects from students," Mackbee said. "Educators take kids from all different levels and are expected to turn them out with all the same results."

The other recommendations proposed include: a call for long-term funding commitments by school boards and legislatures; a clarification of the role of the public school system as it relates to other institutions of society; continued strengthening of professional standards for teachers and principals; and the need for the general public to better understand the goals and successes of its school system.

Smoke detectors make good Christmas gifts

As the holidays approach everyone thinks of the gifts they will give to their loved ones...their families. What gift could mean more than the gift that could save a life, a smoke detector.

A rather inexpensive, small, but very important item that could mean a time of safety for the ones nearest and dearest to everyone.

This year the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Antioch Fire Dept. urges everyone to seriously think of purchasing one, two or three of these life saving items as Christmas gifts for family and friends.

During the weeks remaining until Christmas, smoke detectors can be purchased from the Antioch Fire Dept. at 835 Holbek Drive on Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The special price for these smoke detectors is only $7.

Chief William Carney wants to remind everyone that at this holiday time everyone should be extra careful with Christmas decorations, candles, extension cords.

Television sell shows ballyhoo bankruptcy

by GLORIA DAVIS

It's surprising that it took over 30 years for the hawkers and the barkers to discover what might turn out to be the greatest selling tool to date -- the family television set.

Now that this new "wish look" has struck retail gold, the concept of shopping via your tv set is on the grow and in urban areas, a profusion of these tv vendors can be found on a dozen or so channels, at all hours of the day and night.

When I Think About It

While making shopping rather painless, psychological methods at their finest are employed in finalizing a sale.

First an item is shown in its full-color glory, then a salesperson that would make Willie Loman look like a fledgling, tosses out things like "limited quantity at half price," with the tension growing until only 60 seconds and four items are left, just enough time for you to grab that charge card and dial the 800 number.

When the smoke clears, you'll either have made the buy of a lifetime or you're stuck with a folding ladder you'll never use.

It's also a learning experience. Watchers have added words like Capidamonte and cubic zirconia to their vocabularies.

Teleshop and QVC seem to be the leading contenders for your purse strings in this cable tv area.

Televison's "last word in integrity" "20-20" did a rate review on many of these video shopping shows and Teleshop was rated highly as to the quality of its products, and the backing of such.

Teleshop not only quotes the top retail price but it tells you what stores are asking for an item so one can check if they wish.

Usually the video price is somewhere in the vicinity of half of that top price.

QVC promises delivery in five days even during these hectic Christmas shopping days, that is if a credit card is used, checks hold delivery up because, understandably, the merchandise isn't sent until they clear.

Teleshop delivery seems to take up to three weeks since they keep very little stock inventoried. They are actually salesman that have an agreement to sell an item almost at wholesale prices.

You call them, then they call the vendor who does the shipping.

One thing none of these television hotshot salesman is selling is legal services for those who go bankrupt via overcharges on their credit cards. This is the biggest thing that they are making obtainable if one does not keep their financial wits about them.

So beware, count you credit card out dollar by dollar before you make that call!

Yule wish program to supply gifts

A new project at the Santa House at Toft and Orchard Sts. in Antioch this year will be the "Christmas Wishes" project sponsored by the Jaycees.

While children visit with Santa, parents wishing to share the joy of giving in the Christmas season may select the name of an Antioch child or senior and provide a much-needed gift for that individual.

There will be a box with forms indicating the first name, age and sex of these gift recipients. Those selecting the name will sign the log book indicating that they will be willing to supply a gift and whose name they selected.

After wrapping a gift of their choosing and labeling it with the name of the recipient, they may drop it off at the collection point in the First Bank or State Bank. The gifts will be collected from there by the Jaycees and delivered in time for Christmas.

This is a great way to share the happiness of the Christmas season through the joy of giving. For more information about the Jaycees, please call president John Gerhardt at (312) 356-5926.

Sponsor food drive

One of the biggest and most successful efforts made to date this school term by the eighth grade students of Grass Lake Grade school was the holding of a food drive for Thanksgiving. The food was then donated to the Antioch Food Pantry at the Antioch United Methodist Church. Collected for the needy were non-perishable goods such as canned goods, boxed foodstuffs.

Fabry in quarter finals

Tamara Fabry, a senior at Antioch Community High School, has been selected as a quarter-finalist in the selection process for the Coca-Cola World Chorus.

The daughter of Mrs. Janet Fabry of Lindenhurst, Tammy is a soprano in the A Cappella Choir. She is very active in the music and drama departments at the high school. She was selected for membership in Madrigals, a select 16 voice choir, her sophomore year.

She has been involved in numerous musicals including "Music Man," "Bye Bye Birdie" and "Cinderella." Gabry is presently serving a one year term as president of the choir.

The Coca-Cola World Chorus will be composed of approximately 100 young people representing the countries participating in the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary, Canada, and will perform during the opening ceremonies telecast worldwide and throughout the Winter Games at selected events.

Coca-Cola USA has embarked on a nationwide search for two high school seniors who will represent the United States in the chorus. Under the auspices of the American Choral Directors Assn., one of the largest professional organizations for choral directors in the world, two candidates from each state will be selected as semi-finalists in mid-December.

An independent panel of judges will select six finalists to compete in a live audition in early January, 1988, at which time the U.S. representatives will be chosen.

Citizens' group forms to challenge enforcement

A citizens' group, concerned about what they believe is inadequate enforcement of building and zoning ordinances in unincorporated west Lake County, has called a public meeting at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 9, at the Lake Villa Twp. Hall, 37908 N. Fairfield Rd., Lake Villa.

Charter members of the group, "Citizens for Better Building and Zoning," include Jeff Lieber, Bruce Padbury, Jo Garrett, Jim Gardner and Gloria Carrick. Coincidentally, most of the members are also advocates of the proposed Village of Liberty Lakes, which would occupy most unincorporated areas of Lake Villa Twp. and parts of Antioch, Avon and Grant Twp. Garrett said that Liberty Lakes is not connected with this initiative.

In a statement to County Board members announcing formation of the group, members said, "We have tried in the past to bring this situation to your attention, but have met with very little success.

"We are ready now, to use every available means to unite the people from every area in Lake County. We will demand improved services, a halt to negligence, and...a professional director in building and zoning.

"We will distribute pictures, document the facts, circulate petitions and use all available legal means to make you give the people quality services for their tax dollars and permit fees. We will not cease until such time as you have taken corrective measures to rectify all the problems which exist within the building and zoning department and with its director (Bob Streicher).

"We hold you, the Lake County Board, responsible for the building and zoning department's shoddy, selective, retaliatory and discriminatory enforcement of the ordinances you have created. You alone have power over the administration of this department."

Going a step further, the group took a slap at Dist. 1 Rep. Helen Amendola, chairman of the building and health committee. Calling her part of the "good old boy network," the group said "she is white-washing problems brought to her attention by the people."

For further information on the group at the meeting, call (312) 356-2085.

Raising false alarms

Three weeks ago, three County Board members from Dist. 6 took newsmen from Channel 2 and several newspapers on a tour of supposedly dangerous toxic waste leaching from the Wauconda Sand and Gravel Pit, a garbage dump that is on the Environmental Protection Agency's Superfund list for clean-up.

The group was led by Dist. 6 Rep. Bruce Hansen and included Reps. C. Richard Anderson and John Reindl. They pointed out a dark, liquid muck oozing from the ground. They immediately pronounced it a clear and present danger.

The problem is, none had bothered to have the muck analyzed before making such ominous pronouncements. Only last week did the testing results become available. William Mays, acting director of the environmental health division of the Lake County Health Dept. announced that "the sampling results are not at levels dangerous to the public health."

Turning down grants

Residents of the Village of Round Lake did an unusual thing last month—they decided not to accept almost $2 million in county, state and federal funds for a highway project that would have cost the village a maximum of $30,000.

The project would have connected Cedar Lake Rd. in a straight line from its southern point, where it meets Nippersink Rd., to the existing Cedar Lake Rd. about two-thirds of a mile north. Had the project been approved, it would have created another major north-south artery in the middle of the county and would have, undoubtedly, created more traffic through the Round Lake area.

With the explosion of growth that is

Dist. 6 Rep. Jerry Beyer, who is also Wauconda Twp. Supervisor, was so angry he called Hansen a "political arsonist." We would not go that far. Certainly, the discovery of muck oozing up near the garbage dump is cause for serious concern and should not be taken lightly.

We do believe, however, that to make the discovery, call every news outlet in Chicago, and make assertions not based in fact and without testing, is something akin to yelling "fire" in a crowded theatre.

The public would have been better served had there been fewer headlines until there was more accurate information available.

As long as there are public officials more interested in grabbing a sensational headline than in treating serious problems in a serious manner, the county will continue to have more problems than solutions.

occurring in and around Round Lake, county and state officials have little doubt that some sort of improvement will have to be made in the next decade.

Leaders of the opposition in Round Lake cited potential flooding concerns and the fear that this was not the best possible alternative as reasons to vote against it.

Whether or not those concerns are compelling, we hope that citizens of the community get together soon to decide what is the best possible alternative and get plans in the works. The county needs a north-south artery in that area. It is important that the people of the community decide how they want to proceed while the county, state and feds are still willing to foot the bill.

Asbestos hazard exaggerated

With all the concern about asbestos in our schools, we received some interesting information from Ron Riepe, staff geologist at the College of Lake County.

According to Riepe, the supposed threat from asbestos is overblown. He says that the "public perception is based on incomplete information" and that "regulations are based on the same incomplete information."

He enclosed an article from "Geotimes," a professional journal for geoscientists. The article cited a lack of communication across scientific disciplines as the cause of a serious misunderstanding about asbestos-related hazards.

Asbestos is a generic term for any of a number of minerals that are found in fibrous form. The same minerals, when not in fibrous form, are not asbestos. Most enlightening was that only crocidolite (blue asbestos), which accounts for only 2 percent of all commercial asbestos, has caused significant health problems in non-occupational settings.

Fortunately, the schools in this area which have asbestos have chrysotile (white asbestos) and amosite (brown asbestos), neither of which have created health problems. None of the schools have reported the presence of the dangerous crocidolite asbestos.

The article blames mineralogists and epidemiologists for failing to "compare notes" before giving out what is incomplete information. "Geoscientists did not do a good job of explaining that (they) had information important to the health-science community," the article concludes.

Asbestos, in certain forms, is hazardous. Fortunately, those are not the forms found in our schools. All parents should breathe a little easier with this news.

County executive system a dangerous proposition

In the March 15 election, voters will decide whether Lake County should adopt a county executive form of government. There are some things that concern me... and I will vote no.

It has been said, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." Given the way the County Board picked its chairman, the stalemate and long-ballot selection, I can understand why one might say, "Things are broken."

What is broke, though, is how the Board selects the chairman. That can be "fixed" without turning to a county executive form of government, which has some dangers to taxpayers.

One reason that there can be a stalemate is that there is an even number of board members—24. That can be changed to an uneven number. When the Board reapportions, as it must by law after the next census, that could be done.

Also, the county could go to a county-wide, at-large election of its board chairman. An at-large chairman has the same powers as the present chairman; the only difference would be that the chairman would be elected by the voters of Lake County. I support that change, and publicly stated so many years ago.

If the voters did vote to adopt the county executive form, a constitutional issue arises as to whether we would also become a home rule county. Article VII, Section 6 of the constitution states that counties having chief officers elected by the people are home rule units; and a further provision gives the people the right by referendum to change from home rule to non-home rule.

No county in Illinois except Cook is home rule. Home rule units have awesome powers to tax. We should not tread in those dangerous waters, given the constitutional uncertainty.

The county executive form is an extra layer of government. That means added costs to taxpayers... make no mistake of that.

The chief executive, by statute, can hire his own attorney at a cost no higher than the state's attorney's salary. That's salary only. As state's attorneys have staffs, so would the chief executive's counsel, at added costs.

The chief executive would also be in charge of the budgetary process, and would hire administrative staffs. There could be some duplication, considering the historic policy here that the County Board controls the personnel practices and policies. Duplication means added costs.

Imagine the political fights that might break out between factions when a county executive might use his own legal counsel, while Board members relied on the advice of the state's attorney, or the bickering and in-fighting over fiscal differences and hiring and firing.

The county executive form of government concentrates too much power in one person, the one danger I fear most. We don't need such centralized power in Lake County. Under our present system, County Board members vocalize and represent their constituencies, as well as county-wide concerns. Their ability to represent various geographical areas of the county will be weakened by the centralized power of the executive. That means you lose your voice in government.

The election to choose whether to go to an executive form of government is in the primary election. Not many people vote in primary elections—only 12 percent of voters did in the last one. Any issue as important as changing the form of government should be decided at a general election, when many more people vote. Every other office-holder has to first run in a primary election.

We're trying to change that, too, so that if the people choose to go to the executive form of government, candidates are chosen in the regular process—nominated in primary election contests and then elected in general elections.

Guest Columnist

John Matijevich

Some who circulated petitions to place the issue on the ballot here have told me that they were not aware of my concerns. It would have been more responsible if the issue were first brought before a county committee or an outside group for comprehensive research and study. At least that would have bought time so that the matters needing legislative revision could have been done.

The process in which the public, through its representatives on the County Board, has a voice, is at risk by the formation of the powerful position of county executive. If you share the concerns that I have expressed here, "Just Vote No."

(Editor's note: John Matijevich is the state representative from the 61st Representative Dist. A long-time member of the Illinois House, he is among the Democratic leadership.)

Letter To The Editor

Thanking Winchester

Editor:

This is the time of the year when we think about all those people who have made an impression on our lives and we want to thank them or give them a gift. Since it is impossible for me to give every employee of Winchester House a gift, a public "thank you" will have to suffice.

The employees of Winchester House are the friendliest, kindest group of people I have ever known. They treat the residents like members of their own families. Never have I been to Winchester House that I have not been greeted by smiling faces and cheerful dispositions.

If you have a friend residing at Winchester House and you have never been there, visit them and see for yourself what a pleasant atmosphere exists.

Babcox rumors are ill-conceived and inaccurate

LAKE COUNTY SHERIFF Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox has been the subject of much speculation in the aftermath of his serious surgery.

Frankly, it makes me doggone mad to hear people who should know better whispering in confidential tones that the sheriff is a "goner."

Just Politics

By Charles Johnston

The facts are that Babcox had very serious surgery and is very ill. Until last week, he had been seeing about 10 visitors a day and taking 15 to 20 phone calls from friends and well-wishers each day. His doctor ordered him to put a stop to all the activity for a week and give himself some time to relax.

Right now, it would be foolish to say that, in a few months, Babcox will be up and active as can be again. It is equally foolish to write him off. Part of the sheriff's stomach was removed. Before doctors can give an accurate prognosis on him, they have to wait and see how the stomach heals. If there are no problems, Babcox will be fine. But it is too soon to tell.

Certainly, when someone is sick, some supposed friends take a certain amount of morbid glee in thinking and saying the worst. Others like to pretend they are closer to the situation than they really are by giving "confidential" information - that is not accurate.

In this case, some politicians are counting their chickens before they are hatched and plotting with ghoulish pleasure to fill a vacuum that does not exist.

Knock it off, folks. I don't know when and if the sheriff will make a complete recovery but I'll guarantee you that if he does, he won't forget the people who were anxious to bury him prematurely.

I COULDN'T HELP but be amused last week by allegations in the Chicago media that Mayor Eugene Sawyer made (gaspl) deals to get his position.

Let's talk a little bit about deals. When you get a job, you're making a deal. When you buy a car, you're making a deal. When you get married, you're making a deal. Some deals work better than others. But every time something gets done, it is because a successful deal has been made.

There are several kinds of deals - those made to accomplish something, those made for personal gain, and those that violate ethics or laws for some illicit purpose. The latter are in the minority, though they get the most attention. Unfortunately, those dirty deals give the word "deal," which is one of the most useful tools in the world, a bad name.

Why should anyone make a deal to accomplish something? The answer is, how many people are no wiser today than they were five years ago? How many people expect to be no wiser five years from now than they are today?

The fellow who claims he never makes a deal is not standing on some lofty principle; he is making a pretense of infallibility and ignorantly asserting that he has grown as much, intellectually, as he ever believes he will. In its best form, the willingness to make a deal with competing interests is the recognition of personal fallibility.

That does not mean that everything should be on the bargaining table. Political maturity, as well as any other form of maturity, means setting priorities. There are certain principles which define a person's character and these are not negotiable. But there is no shame, and in fact, no little honor, in accepting that the other fellow's position might be right when you are not absolutely sure.

People who make a moral stand of every issue are tiresome bores who seldom get anything of consequence accomplished. People who pick the issues that are important and deal on everything else can move the world.

OUR OWN U.S. Congressman John Porter (R-10th) was cited in a Washington Post editorial as one of 17 Congressmen who were profiles in courage for voting against a bill to create a cabinet-level Department of Veterans.

The Post said that while most Congressmen agreed that it was a bad idea, precious few had the courage to vote against it. Porter led the charge against such a department, saying that the consideration of it proved how captive Congress has become to special interests.

Porter neither denigrated the importance of veterans nor the government's obligation to them. But he noted that it is not appropriate to set up a cabinet-level office for every worthy group.

The Congressman is right on target. Once that starts, there will be no stopping it. It is enough that there are paid lobbyists crawling out of the woodworks all over Capitol Hill. It is ridiculous to give official sanction and government offices in the White House to lobbyists. Next, we can have the Dept. of the National Organization of Women, the Dept. of Middle-Class Taxpayers, et. al. But won't it get confusing when we have to create both the Dept. of Pro-Life and the Dept. of Pro-Choice?

LAKE COUNTY STATE'S Atty. Fred Foreman is in the process of forming a legal opinion that will be carefully scrutinized by municipal officials in west Lake County.

Involved is the expansion of the Fox Lake sewage treatment plant, which is at capacity. Fox Lake owns the plant. Other communities in the Northwest Region contract with the county to handle municipal sewage. The county contracts with Fox Lake to accept the sewage.

The problem is that while communities of the Round Lake area, Fox

Lake, and some unincorporated areas are active members of the Northwest Region, both Antioch and Lake Villa are contractually entitled to come on line at any time.

The communities of the Round Lake area and the unincorporated areas are members of an advisory committee, but do not have a vote or any control over the plant and, significantly, who gets capacity when it is in short supply.

In order to finance engineering and expansion, the county and Fox Lake are seeking to add $1 per month to the standard rate. But Round Lake area officials maintain that, legally, rates can only be used for operation and maintenance under the terms of the current contract. A legal opinion has been requested of the state's attorney to sort it out.

If such a charge could be added on to rates, the communities which are already on-line could find themselves financing expansion for communities which are not.

For example, the Round Lake area, Fox Lake, and member unincorporated areas could pay the extra dollar per user each month only to find the additional capacity they have paid for taken by Lake Villa, which has the absolute right to hook on. And the only community which has any authority is Fox Lake.

Voters in these areas would, no doubt, be very angry to find that they had been duped into paying for another community's infrastructure when they have important needs of their own.

In the absence of a change in the contracts to give all areas served a vote in such matters, there is going to be a furious outcry if it is officially determined that taxation without representation is okay for west Lake County.

I must note that I am chairman of a subcommittee which is specifically addressing this problem. While I may be one of the home folks who is infuriated at the idea of being forced to pay for something which we have no control over, I believe I would be equally angry if such a proposal were being forced on any other community.

Hartigan clarifies terms of warranty on used cars

by NEIL HARTIGAN
Illinois Attorney General

A warranty on a used car can best be defined as a promise by the seller that he will remedy certain problems which may develop within a specified period of time.

Written warranties usually set forth the period of coverage and the particular components of a vehicle which will be repaired. Warranties rarely entitle the buyer to cancel a sale, even if problems develop immediately afterwards.

In the absence of an expressed warranty, the Illinois Consumer Fraud Act sets forth specific warranties covering the engine, transmission, and other power train components of a vehicle, and sets forth the obligations of a dealer from whom such a car is purchased.

This warranty applies for a period of 30 days following purchase of the vehicle, and requires dealers to pay a percentage of the necessary repair cost. The percentage depends on the age of the vehicle, and varies from 50 percent of repair costs for vehicles less than two years old, to zero percent if the vehicle is four years old or more.

Raising false alarms

Three weeks ago, three County Board members from Dist. 6 took newsmen from Channel 2 and several newspapers on a tour of supposedly dangerous toxic waste leaching from the Wauconda Sand and Gravel Pit, a garbage dump that is on the Environmental Protection Agency's Superfund list for clean-up.

The group was led by Dist. 6 Rep. Bruce Hansen and included Reps. C. Richard Anderson and John Reindl. They pointed out a dark, liquid muck oozing from the ground. They immediately pronounced it a clear and present danger.

The problem is, none had bothered to have the muck analyzed before making such ominous pronouncements. Only last week did the testing results become available. William Mays, acting director of the environmental health division of the Lake County Health Dept. announced that "the sampling results are not at levels dangerous to the public health."

Turning down grants

Residents of the Village of Round Lake did an unusual thing last month—they decided not to accept almost $2 million in county, state and federal funds for a highway project that would have cost the village a maximum of $30,000.

The project would have connected Cedar Lake Rd. in a straight line from its southern point, where it meets Nippersink Rd., to the existing Cedar Lake Rd. about two-thirds of a mile north. Had the project been approved, it would have created another major north-south artery in the middle of the county and would have, undoubtedly, created more traffic through the Round Lake area.

With the explosion of growth that is

Dist. 6 Rep. Jerry Beyer, who is also Wauconda Twp. Supervisor, was so angry he called Hansen a "political arsonist." We would not go that far. Certainly, the discovery of muck oozing up near the garbage dump is cause for serious concern and should not be taken lightly.

We do believe, however, that to make the discovery, call every news outlet in Chicago, and make assertions not based in fact and without testing, is something akin to yelling "fire" in a crowded theatre.

The public would have been better served had there been fewer headlines until there was more accurate information available.

As long as there are public officials more interested in grabbing a sensational headline than in treating serious problems in a serious manner, the county will continue to have more problems than solutions.

occurring in and around Round Lake, county and state officials have little doubt that some sort of improvement will have to be made in the next decade.

Leaders of the opposition in Round Lake cited potential flooding concerns and the fear that this was not the best possible alternative as reasons to vote against it.

Whether or not those concerns are compelling, we hope that citizens of the community get together soon to decide what is the best possible alternative and get plans in the works. The county needs a north-south artery in that area. It is important that the people of the community decide how they want to proceed while the county, state and feds are still willing to foot the bill.

Asbestos hazard exaggerated

With all the concern about asbestos in our schools, we received some interesting information from Ron Riepe, staff geologist at the College of Lake County.

According to Riepe, the supposed threat from asbestos is overblown. He says that the "public perception is based on incomplete information" and that "regulations are based on the same incomplete information."

He enclosed an article from "Geotimes," a professional journal for geoscientists. The article cited a lack of communication across scientific disciplines as the cause of a serious misunderstanding about asbestos-related hazards.

Asbestos is a generic term for any of a number of minerals that are found in fibrous form. The same minerals, when not in fibrous form, are not asbestos. Most enlightening was that only crocidolite (blue asbestos), which accounts for only 2 percent of all commercial asbestos, has caused significant health problems in non-occupational settings.

Fortunately, the schools in this area which have asbestos have chrysotile (white asbestos) and amosite (brown asbestos), neither of which have created health problems. None of the schools have reported the presence of the dangerous crocidolite asbestos.

The article blames mineralogists and epidemiologists for failing to "compare notes" before giving out what is incomplete information. "Geoscientists did not do a good job of explaining that (they) had information important to the health-science community," the article concludes.

Asbestos, in certain forms, is hazardous. Fortunately, those are not the forms found in our schools. All parents should breathe a little easier with this news.

County executive system a dangerous proposition

In the March 15 election, voters will decide whether Lake County should adopt a county executive form of government. There are some things that concern me... and I will vote no.

It has been said, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." Given the way the County Board picked its chairman, the stalemate and long-ballot selection, I can understand why one might say, "Things are broken."

What is broke, though, is how the Board selects the chairman. That can be "fixed" without turning to a county executive form of government, which has some dangers to taxpayers.

One reason that there can be a stalemate is that there is an even number of board members—24. That can be changed to an uneven number. When the Board reappoints, as it must by law after the next census, that could be done.

Also, the county could go to a county-wide, at-large election of its board chairman. An at-large chairman has the same powers as the present chairman; the only difference would be that the chairman would be elected by the voters of Lake County. I support that change, and publicly stated so many years ago.

If the voters did vote to adopt the county executive form, a constitutional issue arises as to whether we would also become a home rule county. Article VII, Section 6 of the constitution states that counties having chief officers elected by the people are home rule units; and a further provision gives the people the right by referendum to change from home rule to non-home rule.

No county in Illinois except Cook is home rule. Home rule units have awesome powers to tax. We should not tread in those dangerous waters, given the constitutional uncertainty.

The county executive form is an extra layer of government. That means added costs to taxpayers... make no mistake of that.

The chief executive, by statute, can hire his own attorney at a cost no higher than the state's attorney's salary. That's salary only. As state's attorneys have staffs, so would the chief executive's counsel, at added costs.

The chief executive would also be in charge of the budgetary process, and would hire administrative staffs. There could be some duplication, considering the historic policy here that the County Board controls the personnel practices and policies. Duplication means added costs.

Imagine the political fights that might break out between factions when a county executive might use his own legal counsel, while Board members relied on the advice of the state's attorney, or the bickering and in-fighting over fiscal differences and hiring and firing.

The county executive form of government concentrates too much power in one person, the one danger I fear most. We don't need such centralized power in Lake County. Under our present system, County Board members vocalize and represent their constituencies, as well as county-wide concerns. Their ability to represent various geographical areas of the county will be weakened by the centralized power of the executive. That means you lose your voice in government.

The election to choose whether to go to an executive form of government is in the primary election. Not many people vote in primary elections—only 12 percent of voters did in the last one. Any issue as important as changing the form of government should be decided at a general election, when many more people vote. Every other office-holder has to first run in a primary election.

We're trying to change that, too, so that if the people choose to go to the executive form of government, candidates are chosen in the regular process—nominated in primary election contests and then elected in general elections.

Guest Columnist

John Matijevich

Some who circulated petitions to place the issue on the ballot here have told me that they were not aware of my concerns. It would have been more responsible if the issue were first brought before a county committee or an outside group for comprehensive research and study. At least that would have bought time so that the matters needing legislative revision could have been done.

The process in which the public, through its representatives on the County Board, has a voice, is at risk by the formation of the powerful position of county executive. If you share the concerns that I have expressed here... "Just Vote No."

(Editor's note: John Matijevich is the state representative from the 61st Representative Dist. A long-time member of the Illinois House, he is among the Democratic leadership.)

Letter To The Editor

Thanking Winchester

Editor:

This is the time of the year when we think about all those people who have made an impression on our lives and we want to thank them or give them a gift. Since it is impossible for me to give every employee of Winchester House a gift, a public "thank you" will have to suffice.

The employees of Winchester House are the friendliest, kindest group of people I have ever known. They treat the residents like members of their own families. Never have I been to Winchester House that I have not been greeted by smiling faces and cheerful dispositions.

If you have a friend residing at Winchester House and you have never been there, visit them and see for yourself what a pleasant atmosphere exists.

Babcox rumors are ill-conceived and inaccurate

LAKE COUNTY SHERIFF Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox has been the subject of much speculation in the aftermath of his serious surgery.

Frankly, it makes me doggone mad to hear people who should know better whispering in confidential tones that the sheriff is a "goner."

Just Politics

By Charles Johnston

The facts are that Babcox had very serious surgery and is very ill. Until last week, he had been seeing about 10 visitors a day and taking 15 to 20 phone calls from friends and well-wishers each day. His doctor ordered him to put a stop to all the activity for a week and give himself some time to relax.

Right now, it would be foolish to say that, in a few months, Babcox will be up and active as can be again. It is equally foolish to write him off. Part of the sheriff's stomach was removed. Before doctors can give an accurate prognosis on him, they have to wait and see how the stomach heals. If there are no problems, Babcox will be fine. But it is too soon to tell.

Emphasize talking toys, electronic ones top gifts

by GARY S. MEYERS

When going Christmas shopping this season, you probably won't have to wait hours in line to buy a kid from a cabbage patch. But you may have to learn a bit about electronics. We talked to major retailers to find out what's popular for young and old this year, and here's what they had to say.

"High-tech toys are in hot demand this year for Christmas," said Angela Bordon, a spokesperson for Toys "R" Us in Rochelle Park, N.J.

According to Toys "R" Us and other department and toy stores, the most popular gifts for children this holiday season include new-fangled electronic learning toys that emphasize basic spelling and math skills, talking dolls and interactive toys.

Dolls like Teddy Ruxpin, Mickey Mouse, Mother Goose, the Cabbage Patch Kids, Big Bird, Oscar the Grouch, and wisecracking Alf have been given voices. There is also a talking Heather doll with a 400-word vocabulary. Heather smiles and burps, too. Prices for "talkies" range from $40 to $130.

The Entertainment System by Nintendo is a video arcade complete with a robot and laser gun that hooks up to the television set. The approximate cost is $130.

With Videart by LJN Toys, kids can paint color pictures on the television screen using a joy stick. For preschoolers, there is the Talk Board by Video Tech, which teaches counting, colors, shapes and more with the aid of a voice synthesizer.

Among the most popular electronic video games is Captain Power and the Soldiers of the Future, an interactive toy that lets kids strike at on-screen enemies like those on the television show of the same name with a special laser jet. Captain Power costs about $35.

Mr. Game Show, by Galoob, is another hot item this year. For about $100, the obnoxious host will guide your kids through 10 different television game shows. Mr. Game show remembers all the contestants' names and keeps track of their prizes.

The Camcorder System PXL 2000, by Fisher-Price, is a video recorder for aspiring filmmakers. For a mere $200, your kids can shoot 11 minutes of black and white tape and play it back on the attached screen.

While these high-tech items are "in," many retailers also see no-frills toys as popular gift choices this Christmas.

"It's definitely not a Cabbage Patch year, with one fad item specifically outselling the rest," said Debra Semmel, a spokesperson for the prestigious toy store FAO Schwartz in New York. "Traditional and old-fashioned toys seem to be the ones selling the best this year."

Along with antique-looking dolls, wooden blocks, stuffed teddy bears and train sets, updated versions of old favorites are hot.

Fisher-Price's Fun with Food is a kitchen set that includes a sink, stove, refrigerator, a sizzling frying pan, and much more. The basic kitchen unit sells for about $85, but there's a whole line of additional products, including a plastic tea kettle that whistles, and eggs that pop out of the shell already scrambled or sunnyside-up.

New and improved scooters are also a popular gift choice. With vibrant colors, sleek styling and brakes in the front and rear, they now cost from $50 to $90.

Revamped pogo sticks, known as pogo balls, also are big sellers this holiday season. Children (if they can wrest the toy from their parents) try to bounce and roll without falling off the toy, which resembles the planet Saturn.

Also making a comeback are updated construction sets, including Playskool's Pipeworks, which sells for approximately $60. With more than 50 pieces, your kids can build moving chairs, wheelbarrows and mini-cars.

For adults, traditional items like clothing and perfume are, not surprisingly, the most popular gift choices, with cashmere sweaters and silk scarves, for both men and women, the biggest sellers. Costume jewelry and fashion watches are hot, too.

For women, metal mini evening bags and wide leather belts are "in" gifts.

Mini food processors and space-saving kitchen appliances find places among this season's gift ideas. Black & Decker is offering a complete line of space-making gifts that fit under kitchen cabinets. They include a popcorn machine, cordless mixers and coffee machines.

Exercise equipment is popular this year, with rowing machines and treadmills near the top of the list. Prices can range from $200 to more than $5,000 for some units.

Gift books such as "A Day in the Life of the Soviet Union" and "The Discovery of the Titanic" are popular, according to B. Dalton Booksellers. Cookbooks emphasizing American regional cooking are also selling like hotcakes this Christmas.

And for those who still are not too sure where the stock market is headed next year, there's the stuffed bear that changes into a bull, with the help of a zipper. This furry market indicator is available in the Best Bets department at Bloomingdale's in New York City.

Health Dept. to educate public on lakes management

The Environmental Health Division of the Lake County Health Dept. has announced a lakes management public education campaign directed by both adults and children.

"Lake County's lakes, streams and wetlands are a precious natural resource, ecologically and recreationally; and it is vital that the public be made more aware of and committed to basic methods of preservation," said Bill Mays, M.P.H., acting director of the Environmental Health Division.

Lake County contains 150 lakes, 400 miles of streams, 15,000 acres of wetlands and 507,000 acres of Lake Michigan water along 24 miles of shoreline.

"Many natural and man-made influences can affect water quality. Seemingly innocent activities such as the application of too much or the wrong type of fertilizer can contribute to the pollution of a nearby lake or stream, not only harming the beauty of the body of water, but also affecting the survival of its fish, wildlife and plants," said Bob Whyte, Water Quality Specialist of the Lakes Management Unit.

"Along with its obvious aesthetic value, a clean lake presents economic benefits to the community, such as higher property values and the subsequent boost to the local tax base. It supports recreational and business opportunities in areas such as fishing, swimming and boating," said Steven Moylan, aquatic biologist.

The Lake County Health Dept. lakes management education program will include presentations to groups, distribution of technical reports and informational brochures and production of audiovisual materials.

Lake County residents who would like to participate in the education programs or find out more about the work of the Lakes Management Unit are encouraged to call the Environmental Health Division at (312)360-6747.

Offer women self-defense

The YWCA of Lake County is offering a self-defense course for women. Actual hands-on activities are planned. Mental defense as well as physical techniques will be covered. This program is open to all women in Lake County. Contact the YWCA at (312)662-4247 (ask for Cyndi) for information.

Bird watching is one of winter's pleasures

Sitting at the breakfast table and looking out into our back yard, we window-watched our newly returned pair of black and white Downey Woodpeckers. They were busily taking turns feeding on suet fastened to the bird feeder about 12 feet away.

Yes, the Downeys are back again, but we think it might be a different pair...perhaps the offspring of a hatch a year or so ago. They seem a little larger, better marked and more at ease during feeding. They still take turns and never feed together. If their suet pulls loose and falls on the ground, they ignore it...no ground feeding allowed in the Downey family.

Porter invites students

Congressman John Porter (R-10th) urges high school students interested in government, politics, public speaking, law or history to consider participating in "Convention II," a model constitutional convention to be held in Washington, D.C., this winter. Students or parents who would like more information about the program should contact: Wayne Wagner, c/o Rolling Meadows High School, 2901 Central Rd., Rolling Meadows, Ill., 60008, or call (312)259-9640, ext. 268.

A few days ago we threw out some old uncooked popping corn. We mixed it with regular cracked corn on the ground. The ground feeding birds consume cracked corn with gusto, but won't touch the popcorn. However, our fox squirrels find popcorn very desirable as a cache medium. We don't see them eating much, but they busily pick it up, stuff kernels in their cheeks and scurry off to dig a hole and bury it, maybe only 10 feet away. That's how Mother Nature keeps things growing.

Today we had to wait at the bank, where we "squirrel" things for the future. The girl apologized for keeping us waiting so long. "Our computer is down. Sorry for the delay," she explained. Sure glad Mother Nature's computer doesn't get down to destroy her processes. Who could she blame? Probably us!

We have to believe we live in a land of plenty, when the first-half results of the firearm deer hunting season shows a growth of 6,700 animals. In three days, 33,608 whitetail deer were downed by Illinois hunters across the state. A contributing factor to hunter success has been a dry fall and mild weather. This allows farmers to clear fields early and removes a lot of unhuntable cover. Also, with crops in, farmers are hunting in familiar territory while other years may have required other crop harvesting efforts during deer season. The final half of this segmented season begins Friday, Dec. 11 and runs through the 13.

Deer are usually taken much faster in the first three days and become more wary during the final segment. It's still a guess what the total firearm results will be. The second portion should produce a similar percentage growth, but fewer animals. It's likely there may be a 20 to 24 percent gain this year, over last year's 36,000 harvest, which was then a state record.

It may be necessary to visit our bank girl again and dig out part of those "squirrel" resources, 'cause Christmas is just around the corner. Some interesting new products of America's best known fishing tackle box maker, Plano, may help. Now they use their tackle box expertise to make handsome, sturdy tool boxes for guys, plus whatnot boxes for the ladies sewing, jewelry and accessories, called Caboodles. Both are brand new this year and not likely to duplicate other gifts. However, these are not sport department items, so check product related sections of department and drug stores.

IMA names Calabrese to board

Pat J. Calabrese, president of The Grieve Corp., has been named to the Manufacturers Political Action Committee "MPAC" Board of Directors of the Illinois Manufacturing Assn.

The purpose of MPAC is to promote a healthy economic climate in the state of Illinois, and to raise funds for this purpose. The board has the responsibility to make contributions to those political candidates for the state legislature, without regard to party affiliation, who have demonstrated their interest in, and understanding of, the manufacturing industry and support the private enterprise system.

MPAC was formed in 1976 and in the intervening years, through its efforts, has brought about many changes in the state to enhance the employment atmosphere.

The MPAC Board of Directors comprises 14 executives from prominent Illinois-based corporations.

A resident of Lake Bluff, Calabrese holds a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, where he was honored for high scholastic achievement. He and his wife Bette have four children.

The Grieve Corp. manufactures industrial and laboratory ovens and furnaces. As a worldwide enterprise, Grieve recently provided biomedical curing equipment to Malaysia, laboratory sterilizers to Nigeria, heat-treating furnaces to South Korea and printed circuit board curing equipment to the People's Republic of China.

Regarding his recent appointment, Calabrese has observed, "We believe it is incumbent upon our board to aggressively endorse and financially support candidates who display an understanding of, and support for, the private enterprise community. We have every intention of maintaining a sound and healthy economic environment in this state. By doing so, we help preserve the stability of the communities in which our companies are based."

For more information, contact: The Grieve Corp., 510 Hart Rd., Round Lake, Ill. 60073-9989 or phone (312) 546-8225.

Job prospects good for county

Lake County employers forecast an improved job picture for the first quarter of 1988, according to a survey released by Manpower, Inc., temporary help service.

Manpower's latest Employment Outlook Survey reports that 30 percent of local employers surveyed plans to increase staff during January.

February and March, 13 percent expect cutbacks and 54 percent anticipate no changes. The remaining three percent are uncertain of hiring plans.

"Although employment prospects traditionally subside following the favorable holiday hiring pace, we are not seeing that here," said Chuck Bartels, owner of Manpower's Waukegan-Lake County area operations.

Three months ago, 27 percent forecast more hiring and 17 percent expected reductions. A year ago, 23 percent indicated plans to increase their workforce, while 17 percent predicted fewer job opportunities.

Nationwide, the outlook is not quite as optimistic for the first three months of 1988, as 21 percent of the more than 13,000 employers polled intend to hire and 12 percent foresee declining employment levels. In the midwest, 19 percent look forward to staff increases and 14 percent plan cutbacks.

In this area, job opportunities are predicted by durable goods manufacturers, transportation and public utilities, wholesalers and retailers, and the public administration sector. Staff reductions are foreseen in (Continued on Page 18)

MIDWEST

MEASURE OF HIRING EXPECTATIONS

*Note: The annual trend line represents net employment expectations for the current quarter in relation to the same periods of previous years. These figures are not adjusted for seasonal variations.

Although the winter doldrums have attacked the Midwest, the damage is not as serious as in any winter quarter forecast since 1979. Despite anticipated curtailment of outdoor construction activities and the normal after-Christmas cutbacks among Wholesale and Retail firms, there are rays of sunshine in the area.

Services companies look forward to their brightest employment outlook since 1979, and Finance, Insurance & Real Estate firms will form a much improved picture over the first quarter of a year ago. Manufacturers — both of Durable and Non-Durable Goods — surpass their norms of this season. The Transportation & Public Utilities and Public Administration sectors are also ahead of the regional average.

Victory wins two awards in national competition

Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan was honored with two first-place Gold Awards at the annual Mercury Awards Competition held in New York City at the National Media Conference and Public Relations Forum.

Competing against more than 1,000 entries from public relations agencies, corporations, associations, government agencies and designers from across the United States and Canada, and abroad—Victory won the awards for the Outstanding Brochure Design and Radio Documentaries.

The Mercury Awards Ceremony concluded the National Media Conference held Nov. 30-Dec. 3 in New York City. Awards were presented by Dr. C. Everett Koop.

Victory Hospital's Radio Documentary on treating emergency radiation injuries in its decontamination unit, and the chronic pain management brochure were the two entries honored.

Skipper Bud's to develop North Point Marina center

The Dept. of Conservation has signed an option to develop the marine service center at North Point Marina with Skipper Bud's of Illinois Inc., according to Mark Frech, director.

Skipper Bud's of Illinois, an affiliated company of Skipper Marine Corp., headquartered in Milwaukee, operates marinas and marine sales facilities throughout the Midwest, including the River City Marina in Chicago.

The company will spend approximately $3.3 million to develop a boat service and sales facility, boat supply and equipment facility, boat handling area, dry storage area, fuel dock, bait and tackle shop, convenience store and coffee shop at the Winthrop Harbor facility now under construction.

"We are pleased to be working with Skipper Bud's in this part of the North Point Marina development," said Frech. "This is the first phase of the Dept. of Conservation's program for private investment at the marina. The dollars we will receive through the lease agreement will assist in repaying the cost of constructing and operating North Point Marina."

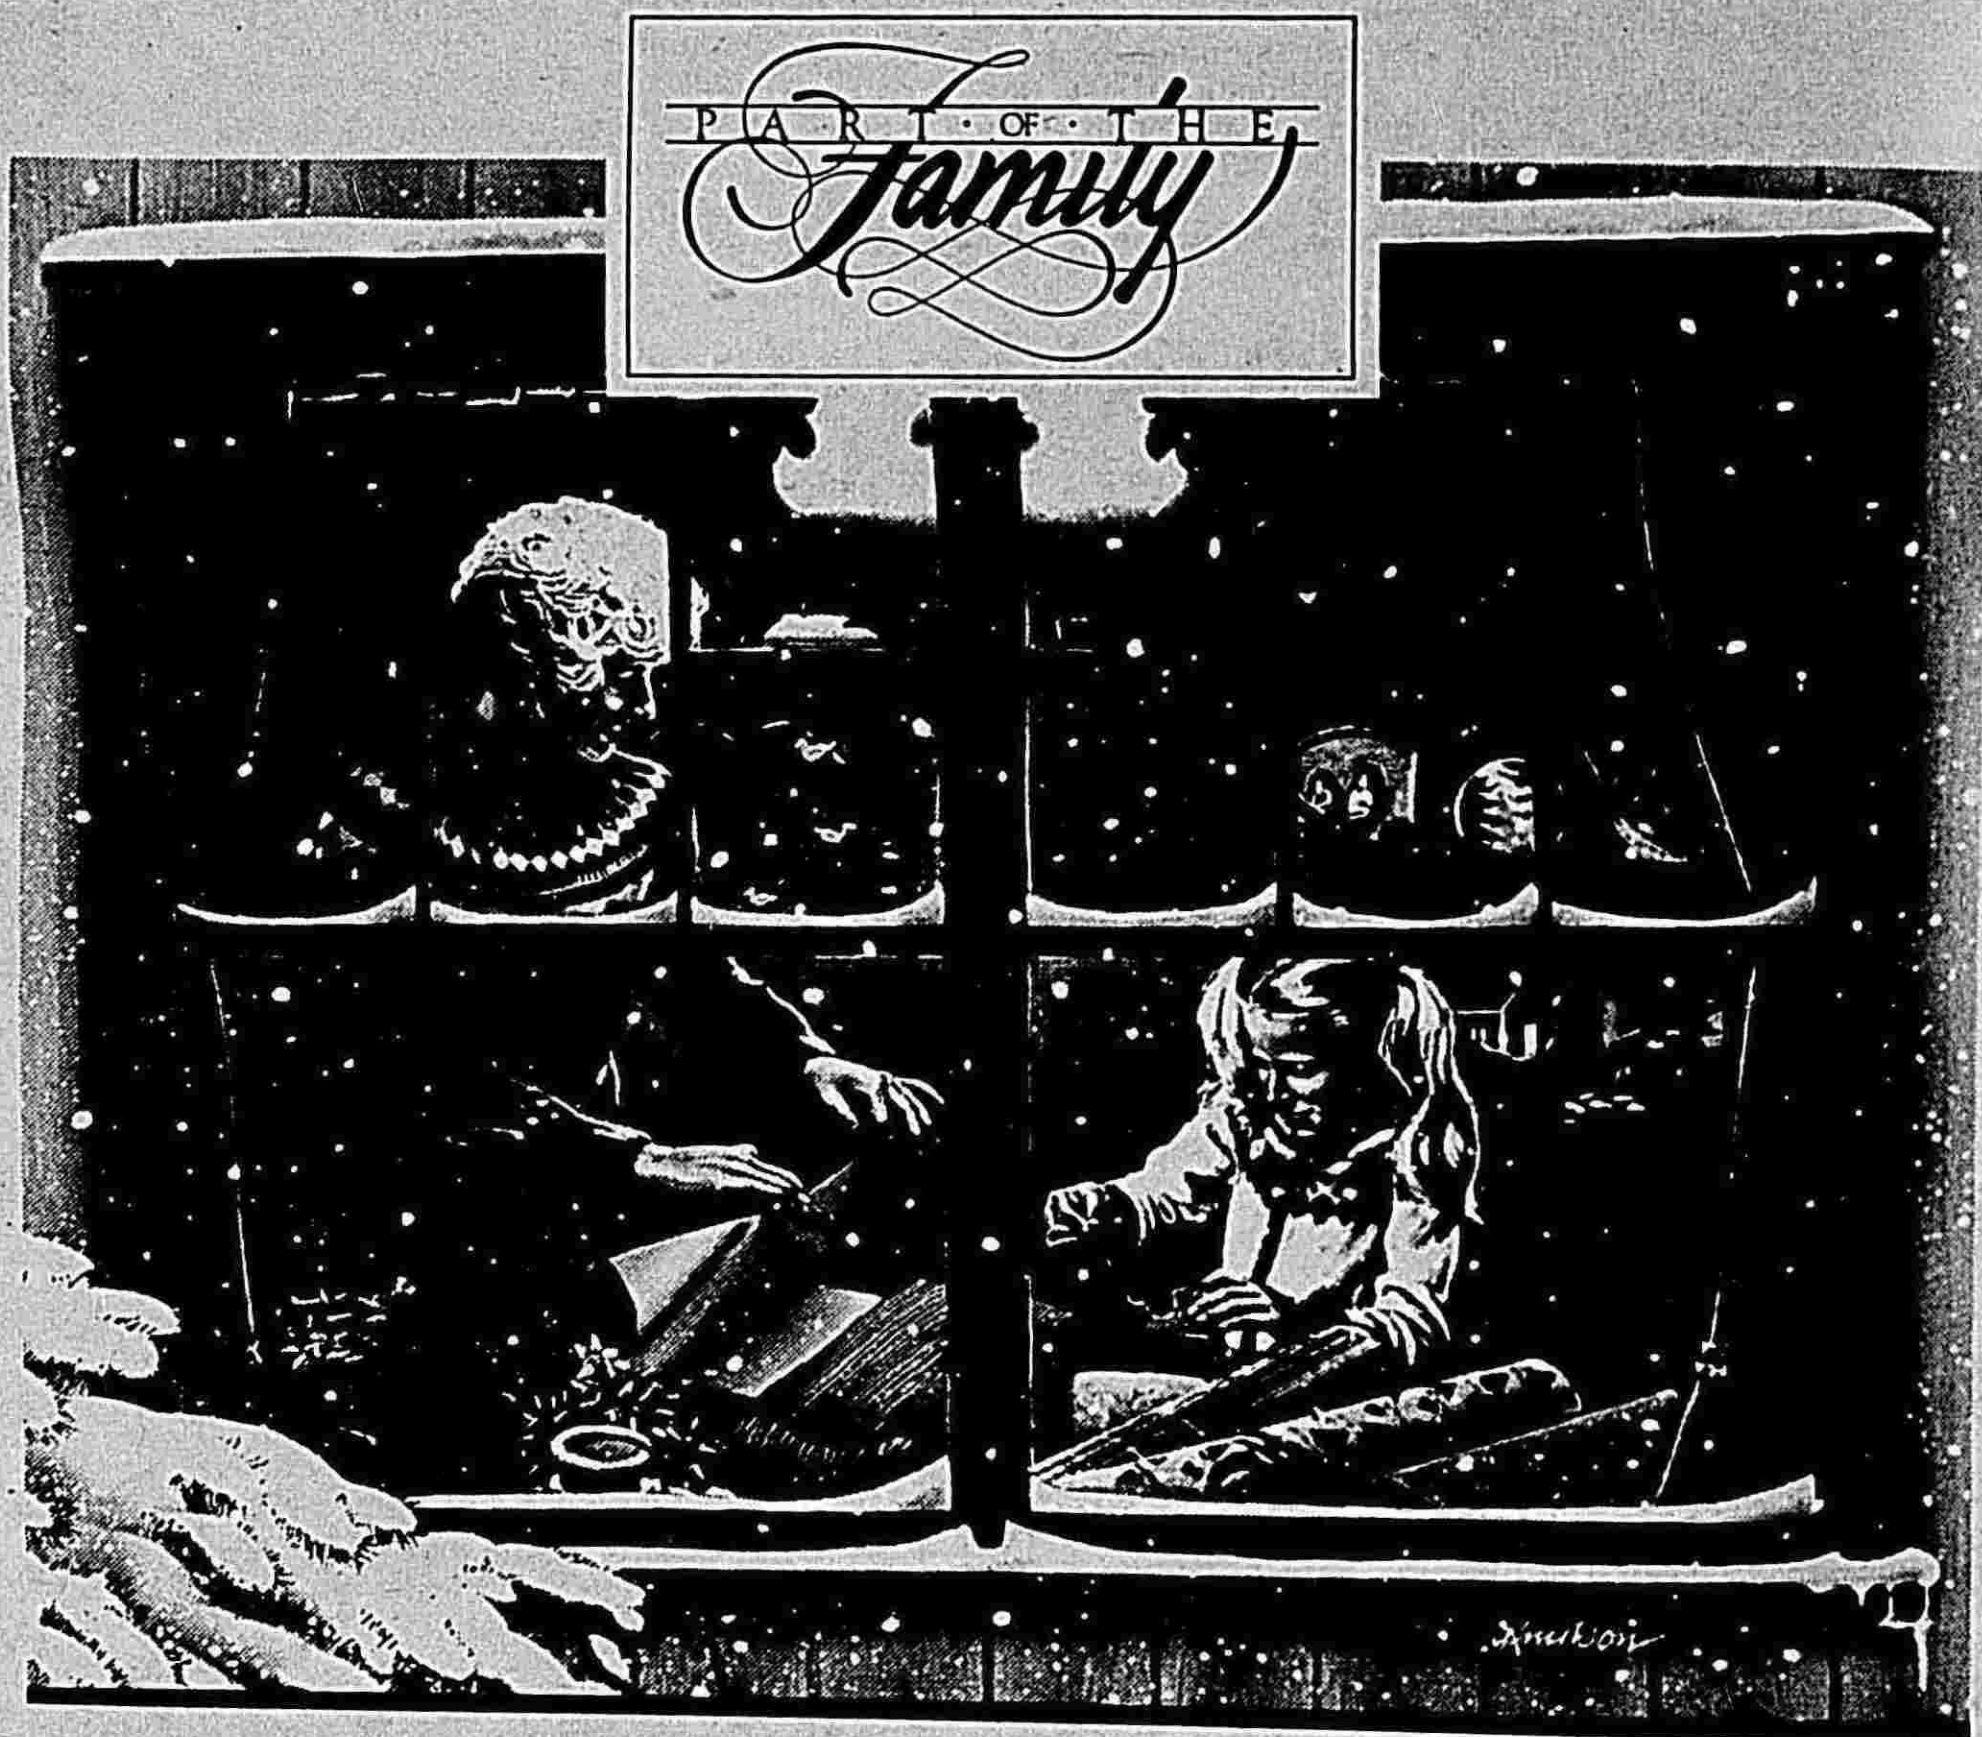

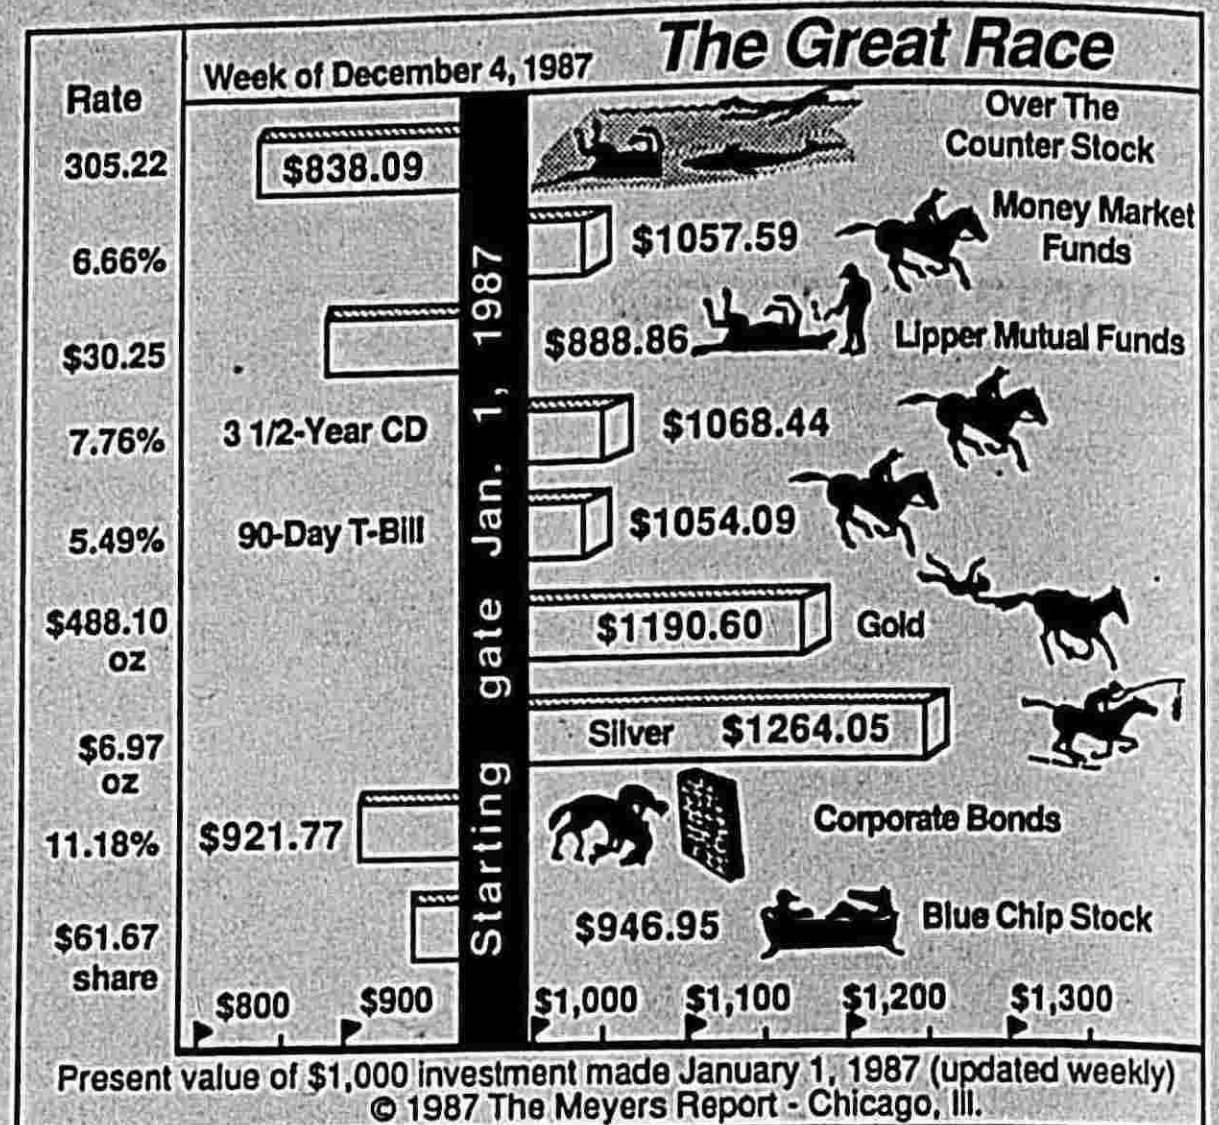

The Dept. of Conservation selected Skipper Bud's from a number of proposals submitted by developers because the proposal was in the best interest of the facility and that company's experience in marina services on Lake Michigan. Under the leasing agreement, the land is made available to the developer on a long-term development lease. The developer constructs the facility under DOC guidelines.

"Skipper Bud's is committed to providing a first-class marina service operation," said Mike Pretasky, president of the Skipper Marine Corp. "By 1989, we plan to have our fueling, haul-out, mechanical service, winter storage, new boat sales and other amenities ready to go. Skipper Bud's hopes to become a part of the community, beginning with a strong commitment to local hiring and local sourcing for goods and services."

Frech said the Dept. of Conservation will begin seeking developers for a fine dining restaurant, a yacht club and a hotel/retail shopping complex for the marina in the near future.

Eye Care Center stresses its complete patient services

It doesn't take long for a casual visitor to realize that the Eye Care Center in Waukegan is not your ordinary eye doctor's office.

Chicago sports posters and Lake County marathon sports articles and photographs dominate the walls of the center, reflecting Dr. Barry Seiller's other interests.

The Eye Care Center, which also has an office in Fox Lake, prides itself on being different.

"We pride ourselves on offering the most complete eye care center in Lake County," Marcia Tobocmann, community services representative, said.

Last week, the Eye Care Center offered tours of its expanded facilities in Waukegan. The Waukegan office has been in existence for almost two decades. The Fox Lake office is about 18 months old, but is already expanding the center's market. The Fox Lake office draws patients from McHenry County.

Presently, there are 29 people employed at the center with seven part-timers and 22 full-time employees. Seiller, an ophthalmologist, is helped by optometrists Dr. Thomas E. Bobka and Dr. James R. Crawford.

Equipment at the center makes it possible for employees to provide everything from glasses and contacts to on-site surgery. In each room, or "lane", there is $30,000 worth of equipment at the ready.

In order to coordinate their services, the administrative team meets once a week while the managers and office administrator meet weekly. The managers meet weekly with their staff and the entire staff meets on a quarterly basis.

Every patient with glasses is checked for previous prescriptions, Patty Slivia, surgery counselor, said.

One of the newer pieces of equipment at the center is a contrast sensitivity tester. The tester was purchased to evaluate and substantiate complaints by patients who appear to have normal eyesight.

For more information, call the Waukegan office at (312) 244-1657 or the Fox Lake office at (312) 587-9800.

Discussing eye care

Dr. Barry Seiller, ophthalmologist at Eye Care Center of Lake County, discusses eye care with Drs. Peter Felder and Dante Gabriel. Eye Care Center prides itself on complete eye care services. For details, call the Fox Lake office at (312) 587-9800 or the Waukegan office at (312) 244-1657.

Abbott promotes Mattingly

Joseph T. Mattingly has been promoted to manager of fermentation development in the chemical and agricultural products division at Abbott Laboratories. Previously, Mattingly was a section manager in the same division. He joined the company in 1966 as a microbiologist in the same division. Mattingly holds a B.S. degree in microbiology from the University of Illinois in Champaign and an M.S. degree in management from Lake Forest Graduate School of Management.

Business development confab

The next North Central Illinois Business Development Conference will be held on Friday, Jan. 15, at the Pheasant Run Resort in St. Charles. The conference will include morning and afternoon seminars on how to increase chances of selling products or services to the federal government. Participants will have the opportunity to meet with persons who can buy or use their services, and will be entered in the Procurement Automated Source System (PASS).

Your guide to smart investing or, how to turn your hard-earned dollars into a hard-working investment

What should I do with my money?

Investors have more choices than ever before. And that's good, but sometimes it can be overwhelming. When faced with a dizzying array of financial options, many of us spend more time wondering and worrying about money than we do determining our financial needs and planning for them.

That's when a guide would really come in handy. "Your Guide to Smart Investing" was created by the Delaware Group of Funds to help you sort out the complexities of the financial world. It takes some of the mystery away from investing and explains the different types of investments available through mutual funds and how to pick the right ones for you.

The financial world is overflowing with opportunities for the smart investor. Make sure that you have the information you need to make an intelligent and rewarding decision on your investments.

Stick to investment plan -- most of the time, anyway

by GARY S. MEYERS

No one ever said investment decisions are easy. Investors are sometimes called upon to make quick decisions that are as critical to their financial well-being as a football coach's fourth-and-one decision is to his job. But many investors are not as prepared as the coach to make these kinds of decisions.

"Know why you're buying a stock before you buy," said Jack Hagman, a broker for Robert W. Baird & Co. in Valparaiso, Ind. "Are you buying for a trading play, a chance to make a quick profit, or for long-term appreciation?"

Once you develop a plan, stick to it and don't underestimate the difficulty involved. A plan to gamble on a risky company that just might take off—a small movie studio, for example—could be hedged with a "stop loss," a price at which you'll sell the stock to avoid big losses.

In managing our Stock Tips hypothetical portfolio, we attach both a sell target and a stop-loss to each stock we choose. Generally, we stick to our plan. However, during the crash of Black Monday, we sat tight, ignoring our stop-loss positions. What good would it have done to try to sell off our entire portfolio at a huge loss? The decision was correct; many of the stocks have come back.

Recently we were faced with a different dilemma. A stock we picked as a conservative, long-term hedge was showing fast appreciation but had not reached our sell target. Should we have booked a quick profit or stuck to the plan?

We had 100 shares of Battle Mountain Gold, a gold-mining stock we "bought" at $16.13 per share two weeks after the crash. The price shot up to $24.75 per share before falling back to the $19 to $21 range. We had established $29 per share as our target. If we had sold at $24.75, we would have booked a $617 profit after commissions. That's a 45 percent gain in less than a month. Sounds good, but let's look down the road.

Recent drops in the U.S. dollar have made gold more expensive; it takes more dollars to buy the same amount of gold. Gold prices also are rising because some investors fear that Federal Reserve credit policies are too loose and may overheat the economy and cause inflation. Gold is a traditional inflation hedge.

Battle Mountain Gold has benefited from rising gold prices, and if gold continues to rise, the stock should increase in value. But if gold prices peak and then head south, it is likely that the stock will follow.

Like the football coach, we asked for reports from our advisors—who gave conflicting advice.

"The gold story is over; it has topped out," said Charles Fahy, a partner in the investment firm of Philips, Fahy & Rockwell in Houston. "If you happened to be in gold, cash in and put your money in blue-chip stocks."

"Don't sell! Gold has just started its run and we're talking in years rather than months," said John Lee, manager of Pension Management, Inc., in Houston. "Gold could double in price in the next two or three years. Hold on and enjoy the ride."

Both advisors have years of experience and back up their arguments with sound reasoning. But the decision is ours.

Let's go back to Hagman's initial question: What did we have in mind when we bought Battle Mountain Gold? We wanted a long-term, conservative investment that would be a hedge against inflation and economic instability. Our decision: Forego the quick profit and stick to our plan. If the stock hits $29 per share, we will sell. If the stock sinks below the purchase price, we will hang on, using the stock as a small portion of the portfolio dedicated to hedging against future trouble.

Stay tuned; we'll keep you posted.

non-durable goods manufacturing. The construction and service industries are reporting mixed intentions.

Always the victim of winter weather in cold-climate areas, the construction industry is not as pessimistic as usual. A total of 19 percent of the firms contacted plan to add to employment rolls, while 22 percent expect declines. A year ago, 16 percent foresaw increases and 26 percent predicted staff cuts. The picture is brightened by an especially favorable outlook for winter construction in the South, where 27 percent will be adding staff and 16 percent will be trimming down.

Hiring plans of U.S. business firms for the first quarter of 1988 were virtually unaffected by the drop in stock market prices.

United Way breaks campaign goal, raises $3.7 million

United Way of Lake County has reached beyond their goal of $3.4 million by attaining $3.7 million, announced Kenneth W. Farmer, 1987 general campaign chairman, at the Victory Celebration.

"Although some campaigns are still wrapping up, I feel a tremendous sense of relief," said Farmer.

"The significant increase in dollars pledged is primarily due to a total Lake County team effort," said Farmer. Over 100 volunteers worked during the past year in the campaign leadership. The campaign theme, "Lake County Needs You...Give From The Heart," was highlighted on the poster which featured Neal Anderson, running back for the Chicago Bears, and several children from the Busy Bee Day Care Center, a Lake County United Way program.

The campaign achievement exemplifies the fact that Lake Countians care about their community and gave from the heart in both volunteer efforts and contributions.

Some of the outstanding campaigns recognized at the Victory Celebration were: Abbott Laboratories, Baxter Health Care Corp., Baxter Travenol Round

Lake, Baxter McGraw Park, IMC, DuPont Critical Care, Hollister, Rust-Oleum, Manville

Corp., Allstate Insurance Co., Commonwealth Edison, Illinois Bell, and Exxon Chemical.

GOP Central Committee announces endorsements

Bob Neal, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, announced the endorsements of the executive committee for 1988 Republican primary candidates.

Endorsements were decided on at a special session of the committee and announced in a letter to all Republican officers in the county.

"I feel that with the complete and unbiased screening sessions held, and subsequently the polling of a majority of precinct committeemen by the township chairmen, the executive committee has voted the conscience of the Lake County Republican Central Committee," said Neal.

"This does not mean that every person will agree with every endorsement," he added, "but keep in mind that in order to get an endorsement, a two-thirds vote of the executive committee was required."

In certain races, no one candidate could garner the necessary two-thirds endorsement vote. Subsequent votes of "qualified" were then taken.

Academy looks for outstanding teachers

The Foundation for Excellence in Teaching, a non-profit public foundation, is accepting nominations through Dec. 11 for the Third Annual Academy of Educators.

Ten winning teachers will receive: $2,500; a paid fall-term sabbatical to study tuition-free at Northwestern University; a professional development seminar series to prepare them for enlarged leadership roles in the Chicago-area education community; and participation in a WTTW/Channel 11 special television broadcast.

Nominations for excellent sixth, seventh and eighth grade teachers, currently teaching any subject full time in any public, independent or religious school in Cook, Lake or DuPage County, can be made by any person—a teaching colleague, a current or former student, a parent of a student, an administrator, or a school staff member.

Each Academy Fellow's obligation in accepting this honor is to pledge to continue teaching for two years following the appointment to The Academy and to develop a special commitment to The Academy's leadership activities.

Nominations should be sent to: The Foundation for Excellence in Teaching, 2551 N. Clark St., Suite 402, Chicago, Ill. 60614-1717.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Check It Out!

by GLORIA DAVIS

On stage

Richard Hensel has appeared as Mark Twain on stage more than 1,000 times, all over the United States and in Great Britain as part of Chicago's cultural contribution to Queen Elizabeth's Silver Jubilee celebration. Critics say, "If Twain wasn't like Hensel's version of him, he should have been." He will be appearing in "Mark Twain In Person" at the Woodstock Opera House at 8 p.m., on Friday, Dec. 11 and Saturday, Dec. 12.

Another "must see" coming to the opera house is the Judith Svalander Dance Theater with excerpts from "Nutcracker" and a new original Svalander ballet done to the music of Haydn. Svalander's group is set for Friday and Saturday, Dec. 18-19, at 8 and 2 p.m. respectively and Sunday, Dec. 20 at 3 p.m.

For side splitters, Danny Storts and Vince Maranto will be drawing laughs for Roars West at Frigates in Ingleside at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday, Dec. 17.

Be there!

Until Dec. 23, the Woodstock Fine Arts Assn. is presenting the second annual Christmas Tree Walk when decorated trees will be on display in the community room of the opera house during business hours. The Children's Hour, with storytelling by Kathie Comella, with apple cider and cookies being served, will be held in the same Community Room, on Saturday, Dec. 18, from noon to 2 p.m. and on Sunday, Dec. 20, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 13 is the day that antique fanciers and flea market nuts should head for the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

On Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 7 p.m., members and volunteers of the Volo Bog State Natural Area are invited to a holiday party full of sharing and singing. Pre-registration is required.

Musical notes

Both the Navy Band from Great Lakes and the U. S. Army Band, Fort Sheridan, will present a Christmas Concert, on Sunday, Dec. 13, at 7 p.m., in the Ross Auditorium of Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

For a "jazzy" holiday, Don Neeley's Royal Society Jazz Orchestra will present "A Roaring 20s Christmas," in Aurora at the Paramount Arts Theater, at 7 p.m., on Saturday, Dec. 12. Tickets are $14.50 and down.

Lyric opera soloists and an authentic baroque orchestra, conducted by Lucille Halvarson, are doing the "Do It Yourself Messiah" at 3:30 p.m. at the arts center, on Sunday, Dec. 13.

Good taste

An "all you can eat" world famous buffet will precede the Messiah at the Paramount Arts Center, Aurora, at the North Island Center before the show.

Check It Out!

Chef Ron, of Ronald's Home Style Deli in Antioch, on Orchard St., has a gingerbread village that is really worth seeing.

Holiday tip! - anyone with one good cookie recipe can end up with a big variety of Christmas cookies to serve during the holidays by joining a Christmas Cookie Club. Everyone makes one kind of cookie, a dozen for each member of the club. That way you go home with a variety of dozens of cookies.

Lovabulls to host Super Bowl Party

The Chicago Lovabulls are hosting Super Bowl Party '88, the annual football fest at McCormick Place, on Sunday, Jan. 31. James M. Hogan, center, recording secretary, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 714 and Michael P. Hogan, president, National Show Services, Inc., are general chairmen of event. Ron Laverdue, president 'K' Concrete, Wauconda, is chairman. All proceeds benefit Little City's boys and girls who are mentally retarded and developmentally disabled. For ticket information, call Super Bowl Hotline, (312)282-2207.

Murder is the Carriage Inn's business

by GLORIA DAVIS

The room was filled with chatting diners. People from north, south, east and west, of mixed ages and occupations, were amicably introducing themselves as they dined around circular tables for 10.

As the waiters brought the soup course, one man rose from his table, obviously in a hurry to leave. Another gentleman immediately got up from his seat, pointed a gun at the departing guest and fired. The victim fell to the floor.

While the other guests in the room were still reeling from the first gunshots, some rushing to the fallen diner, more rang out and the shooter too fell to the floor, as dead as his victim.

Who was the first victim? Why was he shot? Who was the man who shot him and of course why, not to mention the natural queries bubbling on everyone's lips as to the identity of the second gentleman welding a gun.

This man then introduced himself to the room filled with puzzled people, many still in a state of shock from the immediate past events. His name, he said, was Detective Levine.

For those present, and all other amateur sleuths, this was a perfect setting for those who "love a mystery."

The place, — the Carriage Inn in Bolingbrook. The time — last Friday evening. The event — "a Murder Mystery Evening," spearheaded by Ron Rubin.

Just how many of those 80 diners were legitimate guests, there to spend a "sleuthing" evening, and how many were actors, still remains a mystery, even to some who were there.

Jean Rockow and Carolyn Blanchette of Antioch, were two of those guests, there to try their hand at playing Perry Mason, Nancy Drew and Charlie Chan all rolled up into one.

For $47.95 they were served cocktails, dinner, followed by more cocktails and given clues galore, all adding up to as entertaining an evening as either had ever spent.

The idea is to solve the mystery with the aid of the clever clues, the other guests and actors that supply the live excitement.

The person who actually solves the mystery and puts the entire story down on paper as the evening draws to a conclusion around 11 p.m., is awarded, and fittingly so, a figure of the Maltese Falcon.

Blanchette, confused by all the clues and the subsequent happenings that included two more murders, in desperation, wrote, "I did it and the devil made me do it." This little written quip did not get her the falcon, but she did win the detective's booby prize.

No one solved the mystery that night and Detective Levine, played by — came up with a full explanation.

Anyone who has ever had even the slightest urge to play Ellery Queen will enjoy a "mysterious" trip to Bolingbrook, an entirely different kind of entertainment. "Mystery Weekends," for the dedicated would-be investigators are also available. For reservations and more information, call (312)759-2344.

New Gurnee company helps Yule basket cases

If Christmas means standing in lines, spending too much money, and finally settling for just anything in order to cross another name off the list—it's time to meet Carole Stern of Gurnee.

Her new company, My Basket, Your Basket Inc., can help put the fun back into the holidays. My Basket, Your Basket specializes in unique gift baskets and gourmet foods.

"It appeals to business people and housewives alike," Stern explained. "My Basket, Your Basket is for anyone who wants to select a quality gift without running all over town."

Each handcrafted basket features a selection of special items geared to a particular theme. Stern has hand selected the items from around the country so customers are assured of top quality and the enjoyment of giving a gift that won't be duplicated.

"Sure, you can assemble gifts in a basket yourself," Stern said. "But it's almost impossible for the average shopper to locate these one of a kind items without spending a fortune."

In fact, Stern pointed out that some companies mark up the cost of prepared baskets as much as 300 percent.

"My Basket, Your Basket is a small company without a lot of overhead, so I can afford to keep prices quite reasonable," Stern explained. As a result, prices are affordable and customers get a tremendous buy for their money. Baskets start at $20.

The large sleigh, for example, features an 18-inch handmade wooden sleigh bursting with Christmas goodies. A gourmet fruitcake, butter cookies, pastel petit fours, Lindt chocolate truffles, Callard & Bowser candies and two Christmas mugs are all delightfully packed inside the sleigh.

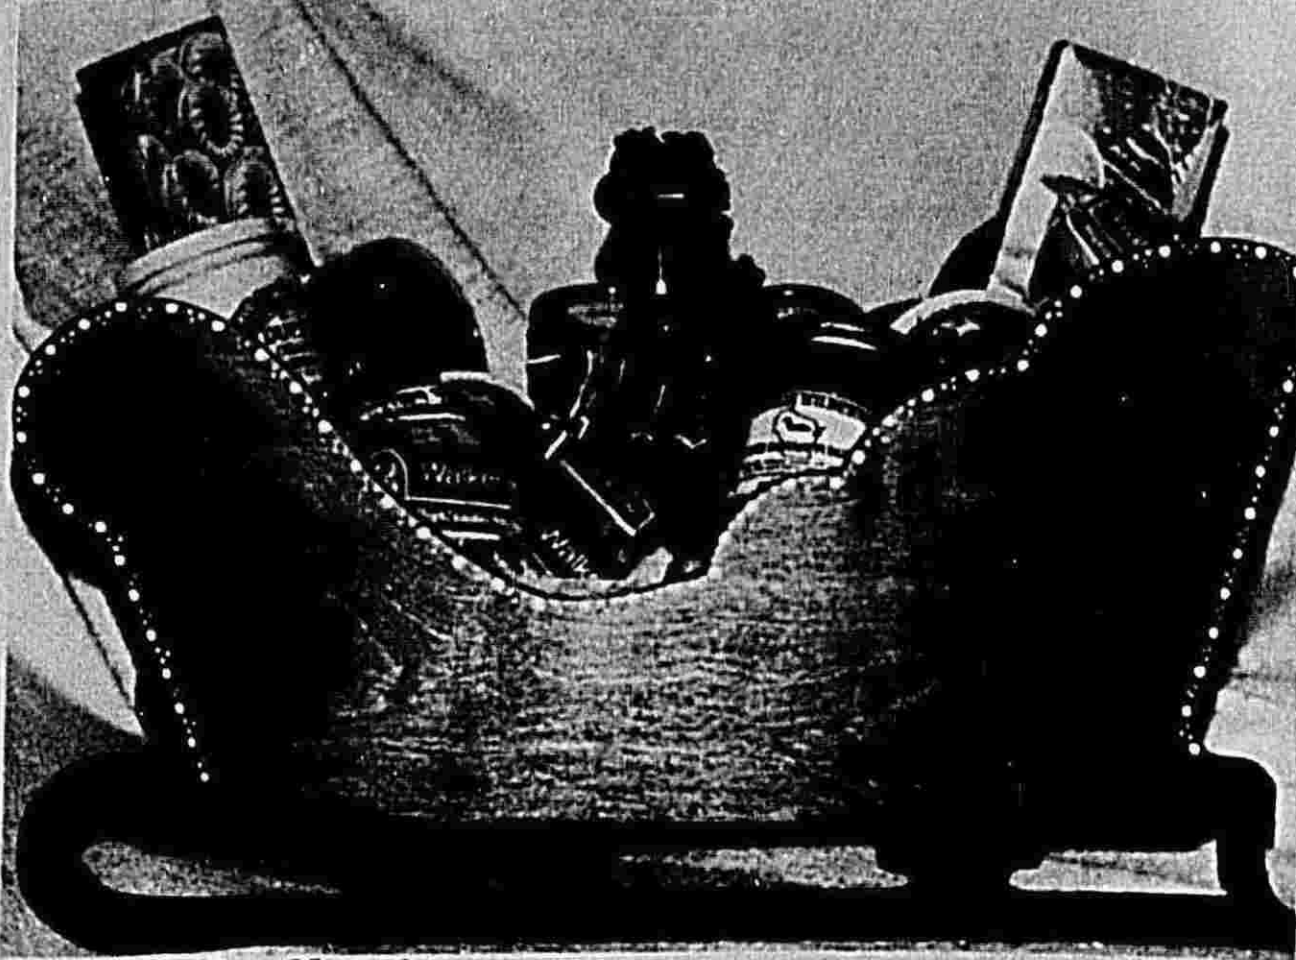

Please chocolate lovers with the chocolate plus basket. This basket features a tin of fudge, an Ambrosia gold bar, chocolate covered cherries, an "I Love Chocolate" mug, plus a book on chocolate, chocolate wafers, chocolate biscuits and even more chocolate indulgences.

The bath basket is woven in mauve, pink and grey straw and decorated with mauve silk flowers and a satin bow. Inside are fine English soaps, body lotion, bath and shower gel and Lavender and Wild Rose foam bath gels. A lovely Victorian rose sachet and a genuine wool sea sponge, plus chocolates and hard candy complete the basket.

The baby basket includes a hand painted ceramic bank custom-made by Antionette of Bienbenue Ceramics in Mundelein.

Other gifts include an appetizer basket, coffee lovers, an Italian basket, holiday cheer, and one for children.

Of course, My Basket, Your Basket will also custom design a basket for individual needs. Special rates are available for business clients. My Basket, Your Basket accepts Visa and Mastercard and ships via UPS.

Sleigh bells ring

Wooden 18-inch sleigh basket, made by My Basket, Your Basket, Gurnee, serves as holiday gift basket filled with gourmet goodies, fruitcake, buttercookies, pastel petite fours, chocolates and chocolate truffles and two Christmas mugs.

Wisconsin fishing maps available

Attention ice fishermen! No more cutting through a foot of ice to find six inches of water underneath. An index of over 2,500 Wisconsin Mapped Lakes will help many ice fishermen enter the charmed circle of experts.

A lake map is actually a hydrographic chart. So what's a hydrographic chart? Simply a term for a map showing the various depths of a lake along with other information that is so desirable to have for fishing...such as kind of lake bottom (sand, mud, gravel, etc.).

Wisconsin Hydrographic Chart one can see at a glance the general contour of the lake bottom and the exact depth.

The index is available at no charge by sending a envelope to: Wisconsin Ice Fishing, Box 5096, Madison, Wis., 53705.

Council accepting forms

The Lake County Arts Council (LCAC) is now accepting applications for "Money for the Arts," a reganting program designed to aid non-profit organizations in funding an arts project.

Any Lake County non-profit organization is eligible to apply for an arts activity scheduled to take place between March 1 and Dec. 31. All applications must be received by Jan. 15, 1988.

LCAC began its "Money for the Arts" program four years ago, supported in part by grant money received from the Illinois Arts Council and the National Endowment of the Arts, and in part by monies raised by LCAC's own fundraising events.

The program's design and purpose is twofold: To bring state monies into Lake County to benefit the arts, and to help promote and encourage local arts groups to reach beyond their own limitations with innovative and challenging activities.

Applications and further information may be obtained by writing to Lake County Arts Council, P.O. Box 8849, Waukegan, 60079.

Rock Tracks

The Eurythmics are back, and they've brought their weapons with them on Savage, their sixth album for RCA. This is the kind of record that only Dave Stewart and Annie Lennox could produce. The first single, "I Need A Man," has some video surprises in store as well as some remarkable acting by Annie. While recording Savage in a chateau in France, Dave Stewart found a moment to marry Bananarama's Siobhan. The results are an album by the Eurythmics in December and a child for Dave and Siobhan.

How did producer Jimmy Iovine recruit his favorite singers to contribute their favorite Christmas songs for A Very Special Christmas, the album to benefit the Special Olympics? Well, he and his wife wrote letters or left messages, and those who didn't respond weren't bothered twice. One guy who didn't need any arm-twisting was Bruce Springsteen. As Iovine put it, "You just say 'Bruce, I'm doing something and I could use your help' and he's just there." Two days later they received a tape of "Merry Christmas Baby." One of my favorite tracks is Chrissie Hynde's "Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas." She sings it like she owns it.

There is also a version of "The Little Drummer Boy" by Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band. Also, Madonna sings "Santa Baby" by Ertha Kitt, and it could hit number one. To round out the list are: The Pointer Sisters, Whitney Houston, John Cougar Mellencamp, Sting, U2, Bryan Adams, Bon Jovi, Allison Moyet, and Stevie Nicks.

Program to focus on owls

A live barred owl will be the featured "guest" at an owl program offered by the Edward Ryerson Conservation Area at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 13. Naturalist Sara Scharnoski will interpret this avian group's natural history through hands-on activities, a short movie and discussion.

Participants will also have a chance to meet the preserve's barred owl.

"He was hit by a car in Virginia," said Scharnoski. "The wing is permanently damaged, so releasing him would mean certain death. At his new home here, he'll help teach us about raptors, pesticide issues and food chains."

Reservations are required for the program, and can be made by calling (312)948-7750. Participants must be at least 10 years old. The fee is 50 cents for Lake County residents, and $1 for non-residents.

Updated 'Scrooge'

Veteran Scrooge, William Norris, right, plays a mellower Scrooge than he used to and Linda Kimbrough, left, plays the Ghost of Christmas Past in Goodman Theater's new version of 'A Christmas Carol' running at Chicago's well-known teaching theater through Wednesday, Dec. 30. Reviewer Tom Witom gives plaudits to 'new luster' in 10th annual performance of Christmas classic.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Goodman gives 'Scrooge' shine

by TOM WITOM

Chicago's Goodman Theatre has given a spitshine to "A Christmas Carol," adding new luster to its 10th Anniversary production of the Charles Dickens classic.

As directed by Michael Maggio and adapted by Larry Sloan, the holiday spectacular features a cast of 26, capably led by William Norris as the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge, a role he has played for nine years running.

The clever staging, colorful costuming and cheerful caroling all add extra polish to the program. Characters pop up out of nowhere or suddenly disappear, flying across the stage or into the heavens; obviously a lot of thought has gone into the special effects.

As a veteran scrooge, Norris may have mellowed slightly in the part, though his performance hardly suffers even if his interpretation is less menacing or ill-tempered than the script would seem to demand.

Among other cast members, Robert Scogin takes care business as Bob Cratchit, Scrooge's conscientious assistant in the counting house, and William Brown is fine as the good-hearted nephew Fred.

But the standouts are the three haunting characters: Linda Kimbrough as the Ghost of Christmas Past (a nice twist, slotting a woman in the role), Ernest Perry Jr. as the Ghost of Christmas Present and Terence Gallagher as the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come.

In the course of one fateful night, Scrooge sees the emptiness of his materialistic-centered life and is transformed through journeys with each of the three spirits into a truly happy, fun-loving, giving human being. When he succumbs to an uncontrollable, prolonged fit of laughter, we know for certain he is a changed man.

"A Christmas Carol" is a treasure trove of good tidings. It runs through Dec. 30.

What's Happening

'Scrooge' at Genesee

The Waukegan Community Players will present "Scrooge," the musical version of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," at 3 and 8 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 12, and at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 13. Performances will be held at the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee, Waukegan. All tickets are $3.

Detectives at work

Jean Rockow and Carolyn Blanchette, Antioch, are busy looking for clues in four 'murders' as they attend 'Mystery Evening' at Carriage Inn in Bolingbrook. Diner guests witness murders and take part in solving crime. First prize for right solution is a statue of the Maltese Falcon. See story in Weekend. — Photo by Gloria Davis

Coupons finance activities

Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Lake County is raising funds to finance group activities through the sale of "Entertainment '88," Lake County's leading dining and leisure discount book. Books are now on sale for $30.

Each book contains a fine dining section with distinctive fine dining card, plus hundreds of two-for-one coupons for family dining, informal and casual dining, movies, sports activities, special attractions and hotels for 50 percent savings on almost everything.

Proceeds will help fund Big Brothers-Big Sisters activities such as its annual picnic, campouts and Christmas party.

Space grad
Marine Cpl. Michael Nieves, son of James and Carlene Page of Spring Grove, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force space systems equipment course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

Chorale to end season

The Lake Region Chorale will conclude their Christmas season at the Ingleside Methodist Church at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 20. A free offering will be taken. The church is on Rte. 59, one block south of Wilson Road.

The chorale will be wearing their Christmas Renaissance costumes and singing carols and chants from the Renaissance, medieval and Elizabethan times.

As a preview for the concert the chorale will be singing at the County Squire Restaurant in Grayslake on Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoons in Long Grove.

The Lake Region Chorale is known in the area for their performances of Renaissance and Baroque songs at church benefits in Antioch, Cary, Waukegan, Johnsburg, Trinity College, Barrington and St. Mary in Chinatown with members of the Chicago Symphony.

Board meets

The Antioch Village Board holds its regular meetings on the first and third Mondays of every month at 7:30 p.m., at the new meeting room in the Antioch Village Hall on Main St.,

Army Band to perform

The Fourth U.S. Army Band will perform its holiday concert for residents of Fort Sheridan and surrounding communities on Tuesday, Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Post Theater.

The band's performance of traditional holiday classics will warm the heart and bring forth the holiday spirit. The Fourth U.S. Army Band has consistently worked to foster patriotism and enhance the image of the Army throughout the Midwest by participating in civic concerts, patriotic parades and civic ceremonies. The concert band will be conducted by Chief Warrant Officer Dennis Stone.

Admission is free and is open to all.

Schedule Yule dance

The Lake Zurich Alpiners Square Dance Club will hold their holiday Snowflake Dance on Saturday, Dec. 19, from 8 to 11 p.m. at St. Matthews Gym, Old McHenry Rd., Lake Zurich.

Rounds workshop at 8 p.m. with Al and Ruth Hallgren; Lyle Stalker, Alpiners Club Caller, will cue the squares starting at 8:30 p.m.

Mainstream level dancing with quarterly selections and one plus tip.

Refreshments will be served, door prizes and banner are available. For more information call (815) 385-3156.

Santa,
My name is Virginia.
My suggestions for my gifts is on the back. I asked my daddy what he wanted for Christmas. He said the Moon (thats a toughie!)
I also asked my Mommy and she said, a more flexible JOB. Work, when ever she wants. The chance to meet new peoples and learn about computers, etc.....

I'm stumped about Mommy.
Do you have any suggestions?

Virginia

Yes Virginia, there is such a job: temporary work through MANPOWER specially if your mom is a Typist, Word Processor, Data Entry Operator or Secretary. Have your mom call:

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME
Weekly Tip: Work on a new game plan.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) You'll need to control your temper now since important people will be watching you. There is someone high on the totem pole who wants to move you up.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) If you find yourself in a social situation, make sure you listen intently. Choose your words very carefully to avoid putting yourself on the defensive.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) If you think someone is being a bit hard on you, let them know in a tactful way. Be sure you take great care if you will be traveling soon.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Go ahead and plan to have some good times, but make sure you don't go out of your budget to do so. Be very courteous with any partying companions.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) You'll want to avoid having people into your home if there is animosity between the people who live there. You need to get out and about anyway, so do it.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Take some well-deserved time to yourself to catch up on some good literature or your favorite hobbies. Stay away from people with prejudiced attitudes.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) If your finances are troubling you, ask a family member for help. Don't be tempted by a risky scheme to make some quick cash; they usually don't work.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) If your usually congenial buddies are acting a bit quarrelsome, don't get involved. These things always have a way of working themselves out.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You'd do well not to argue with your mate now; chances are you'll be in the wrong. Try to promote a sense of harmony with this person instead.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) People who have radically different ideas from your own are intriguing you now, but be sure you approach these new faces with subtle diplomacy.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You're having trouble finding the time to do practically anything now, so set aside a few days to catch up on the errands you have let go for too long.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Pursue your personal goals now with all the energy and vigor you can muster up. Your chances for success are way above average now.

If you were born this week, you should always remember that your ability to get along well with others should not be taken for granted. People will respect and admire you throughout most of your life, as long as they feel they aren't being conned by your charming smile and smooth modus operandi.

APPRENTICE OPPORTUNITIES IN PRINTING

We manufacture computer and business forms and we're looking for a "few good people" for enrollment in our press and collator training program.

The ideal candidates will be high school graduates, mechanically inclined, dependable and have a stable work or military record.

- Starting rate $4.78
- 46% in raises the first year
- 30% in raises the second year
- $25,000 plus per year in first 4 years
- Full benefit package

If you are looking for challenging work, excellent work environment and job security, we can offer you a career with excellent promotional opportunities.

Apply in person 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Mon.-Fri.

INTRODUCING DODGE ARIES AMERICA. THE BEST MID-SIZE CAR YOU CAN BUY.

$6995*

If you're looking for the best mid-size car you can buy, it's gotta be a 1988 Dodge Aries America. With room for 5 passengers, a 2.2 liter fuel-injected engine, front-wheel drive and over 30 other standard features, Aries America is the best value of its class. At $6995, it's the lowest sticker price of any mid-size in America. Plus, it's built to last and backed by our 7770 protection plan - the longest warranty of any mid-size. See your Dodge dealer and check out the best mid-size car you can buy - Dodge Aries America.

*Sticker price. Tax & destination charge extra. Based on comparably equipped sticker price comparisons to competitive mid-size models. 1500 7770 limited warranty on powertrain and other body rust-through of dealer. Restrictions apply.

IT'S GOTTA BE A DODGE.

Campbell Airport to take on regional importance

Nationally known aviation consulting firm is continuing studies into feasibility of upgrading Campbell Airport for more commercial flights.

The study is being conducted under a grant with the Village of Round Lake Park and Illinois Dept. of Transportation, Div. of Aeronautics participating.

"The survey is taking a lot longer than we anticipated," declared Round Lake Park Mayor George Scherer.

Burke and Associates is being paid $65,000 to study Campbell's potential with the federal government paying 90 percent and the village and state 5 percent each.

Mayor Scherer said it originally was expected that the survey would be completed by the end of 1987. "Now it looks like it could be almost another year," reported the mayor.

Scherer said he is pressing Burke and Associates to issue a specific timetable on what has to be done and when the job will be completed. A public hearing was held last January, at which favorable reaction was expressed for upgrading Campbell, a general aviation facility located south of Round Lake Park and Grayslake in Fremont Twp.

Round Lake Park officials are considering acquisition of Campbell from private ownership and operation of the airport.

Homebuyers rank price over location in 1987

Home buyers preferences shifted slightly in 1987 according to a national survey done recently of 1,500 Realty World real estate offices around the country.

Buyers this year are taking a closer look at the "price" of a home which nudged out last year's top choice, "location" by a 42 percent to 40 percent margin.

"This is a reaction to two factors in the real estate market," said Kenneth Wright, president of Realty World Pathway, the Midwest headquarters for Realty World. "First, was the great fluxation of interest rates during the year, and secondly the rising prices of homes," Wright said.

Other main considerations noted in the survey responses were "neighborhood" at 15 percent and the "size" of a home with only a 3 percent response.

According to Wright, the most desirable special feature by homebuyers this year was the "fireplace," which repeats in the number one position from last year. It was followed in the responses by large kitchen, family room, garages, and adequate number of bathrooms, basement and a separate dining room.

In general, large rooms and lots were in a greater demand as a special feature this year. "More and more, buyers are looking for larger areas and are often willing to trade the number of rooms for larger room size," said Wright.

"A big surprise in this year's survey was the low ranking of 'energy efficiency' as a special feature consideration. Last year it was very high on the list," Wright said.

Ranch-style homes still dominate the market according to the survey, with an overwhelming 61 percent of the best selling houses falling into this category. Colonials and two-story/split levels tied, with 14 percent of the Realty World offices listing these styles as their best sellers.

The top two exteriors are still wood and brick at 38 and 29 percent, respectively. "Another surprise was the increased popularity of 'stucco' which ranked number three this year (16 percent) after barely making the list last year," said Wright.

While exterior homes are still the most preferred. However, the most popular trim is now brown, not black, as in previous years. Neutral or natural colors are gaining popularity, whether they are used as paint colors, stains or brick colors.

The survey was conducted through the Realty World system of independently owned and operated offices. It is the third largest real estate franchise organization in the country. The Realty World Pathway three state Midwestern territory is headquartered in Oak Brook, Ill.

National legal group elects defender Hartman

Marshall J. Hartman, Lake County Public Defender, has been elected to the 24-member Board of Directors of the National Legal Aid and Defender Assn.

Hartman was installed at the 77th Annual conference of the Association in Miami, Fla. During a three-year term of office he will represent the Midwest and California in one of the six seats reserved for public defenders.

The Association, an affiliate of the American Bar Assn., comprises more than 500 public defender offices nationwide as well as lawyers in private practice, legal service offices, client representatives and public members.

Headquartered in Washington, D.C., the Association sets standards for public defender offices and provides technical assistance and research for states, counties, and municipalities who employ public defender systems. It also provides information to the Congress and state and county legislators on matters of criminal law, procedure and issues of public policy involving constitutional rights.

The Lake County public defender has also been asked to conduct a three-hour workshop at the conference on "The Impact of Criminal Decisions of the Rehnquist Court in 1986-87 on State Criminal Procedure." This seminar will be conducted jointly with Shelvin Singer, who recently co-authored a treatise entitled "Constitutional Criminal Procedure Handbook" with Lake County Defender Hartman.

34 Carmel girls rank as state scholars

Carmel High School for girls announced that 34 of their seniors have been named by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission as 1988-89 Illinois State Scholars.

They are: Patricia McCauley, Arlington Heights; Sara O'Malley,

Buffalo Grove; Rebecca Anderson, Linda Gehard, Laura Griffin, Diana McCarthy and Gina Schaefer, Barrington;

Tara Roling, Cary; Kristin VanHorne, Great Lakes; Melissa Myrick and Melissa Romans, Gurnee; Sharon Pruski, Hawthorn Woods; Christina Kendzierski, Ingleside; Diana Buschmann, Kildeer; Jennifer Watson, Lake Zurich; Alise Boksa, Jacqueline Bond, Evelyn Butler, Amy Huenekens, Jean Johannes, Erin Moran, Margaret O'Brien, Kristen

Program participation by students is voluntary; however, nearly all Illinois top students elect to have test scores and high school class rank sent to ISSC for consideration. About 10 percent are named State Scholars and receive a Certificate of Achievement for their accomplishment. Over 20 percent of the senior class at Carmel High School for Girls were named State Scholars.

Man gets probation for causing fatal accident

Lake Villa Twp. man charged with reckless homicide after an accident this year took the lives of two children was sentenced to 36 months probation with intensive supervision and one year in the Lake County Work Release Program.

The February 22 traffic accident resulted in the deaths of two sisters, Mela Rill, 7, and Arley Rill, 4, of Round Lake. It occurred at the intersection of Peterson Road and Rte. 60 north of Round Lake Park.

Nathan Rill, the girls' brother, was seriously injured in the accident and his mother, Marcia, was also injured. Michael Stewart, assistant state's attorney, told the court the mother did not attend the sentencing because she was undergoing plastic surgery to the accident.

The guilty plea was entered by Kick through his attorneys, Robert Will and Briscoe and Stewart.

The sentence by Judge John Goshgarian requires in addition to the probation and work release, Kick must follow all recommendations from substance abuse and mental health agencies, he will not be allowed to drive, and he is prohibited from alcohol and drug use and barred from visiting taverns.

While court tests revealed no alcohol in Kick's blood or urine, Kick said he had a half can of beer at a friend's house prior to the accident. Tests revealed traces of marijuana but did not determine when it had been used.

Kick, who has no prior criminal background, said it had been two days before the accident that he had smoked marijuana with a friend.

According to Stewart, the sentencing must reflect punishment that tells the public such accidents as this, which totally devastated the Rill family, cannot be tolerated.

Salvation Army faces halt to aid

An unexplained drop in Christmas donations may force the Lake County Salvation Army to place a ban on any further requests from families for Christmas assistance.

They are looking at ways to deny some requests for the first time, said Captain Paul Moore, administrator of the Waukegan-based County operation. He said his receipts from both bellringer kettles and mail donations "is down more than 22 percent over this time last year."

The agency had already received requests for 550 Christmas baskets by the beginning of December, and unless more aid is brought in somehow, Moore says he will be forced to stop accepting any further requests. "And this won't just affect Christmas," he said. "This will cause problems right through next year."

Moore said his operation served 8,000 people last year and expects the same, or even higher, numbers in 1988. In order to provide the aid for food, or emergency shelter, or help with utility bills, Moore said he is urgently seeking donations and volunteers to man the Salvation Army kettles at stores throughout the area.

—LEGAL— CORRECTION

The delinquent real estate tax report published on November 13, 1987, listed Daniel and Sandra Jakes. Because incorrect information was supplied to the Landlord Press, a recent delinquent report listed Daniel and Sandra Jakes incorrectly.

Computer Society to have speaker

The Chicago Computer Society has announced that Mark Bird, Lake County resident and 14 year data communications veteran, will address their Lake County chapter at their Wednesday, Dec. 16 meeting.

The meeting will be held at the College of Lake County in Grayslake at 7:30 p.m.

Bird will offer his popular presentation on the RS232 standard. He will demonstrate how to determine the correct cable configuration for a particular situation.

The Chicago Computer

Society is a users group with a goal of providing excellent educational opportunities for the community. CCS meetings are open to the general public. For additional information contact Paul Clay at (312)680-8952.

Deadline for tax break nears

Dec. 31 is the deadline for applying for 1986 Circuit Breaker property tax grants, according to State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

The Circuit Breaker is a program that refunds to qualified elderly and disabled citizens part of the property taxes and various other taxes they have paid. To qualify, one must be at least 65 or be totally disabled, be an Illinois resident and have a household income of less than $14,000 a year.

Nearly half a million Illinoisians qualify for the Circuit Breaker program, which provides grants toward property taxes, free medicine for certain chronic health problems and additional grants. In addition to grants of up to $700 for property taxes, the program provides additional grants of $80 a year. Persons who must take medicine for heart ailments, high blood pressure, diabetes or arthritis may enroll in the Pharmaceutical Assistance program and receive the medicines free instead of accepting their $80 additional grants. However, if both spouses want Pharmaceutical Assistance, one of them must pay $80 annually. Circuit Breaker qualifiers can also obtain half-price auto registration for one vehicle.

Sen. Geo-Karis warned people filling out applications to pay attention to certain details, because it's often the simple mistakes that cause delays in getting the rebates. Among the common mistakes are forgetting to sign the application or failing to check off the box indicating the marital status of the applicant.

More information on the Circuit Breaker program and application forms may be obtained by calling the Illinois Dept. of Revenue toll-free at 1-800-732-8866.

Big Brothers slate orientation

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County invites all single parents to learn more about the warmth of a one-to-one friendship their program offers at a Parent Orientation meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 8 at the BB/BS office, 4213 Grove Ave., Gurnee, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents who think their child/children (ages five to 14) could benefit from weekly additional adult attention call (312)360-0770 to make orientation reservation.

Alcohol, substance abuse

On the first Monday of each month, the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse presents lectures, films or videotaped programs on issues related to substance abuse. Each program is followed by a discussion. This month's meeting will be Dec. 7 from 6 to 7 p.m. The subject will be "Drinking and Driving: the tolls, the tears. Meetings are held at 1113 Greenwood in Waukegan.

Offer sessions

Adults returning to the classroom are invited to informational sessions on Roosevelt University degree programs at the Lake County campus in Prairie View. Meetings will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 8 at the Waukegan Public Library; and at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 10 at the Fremont Public Library. Admission is free. Discussions will be on courses leading to master's degrees and bachelor's degrees.

Aviation scholarship available

An aviation scholarship award will be awarded at the state convention of the Illinois Pilots Assn. in May of 1988. Applications are now available for an Illinois resident enrolled in an Illinois college or university and majoring in an aviation-oriented curriculum. The scholarship is for one year and pays $500. Application forms must be received by April 1, 1988, and can be obtained by writing to: Illinois Pilots Assn. c/o Larry McAneny, chairman, 55 Ouatoga Bluff, Godfrey, Ill., 62035. For more information call (312)331-2117.

Bridge players to host benefit

The Waukegan Bridge Center will host a benefit duplicate game for the Help Them to Hope Fund on Friday, Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. The game will be set up as a local tournament and the Jane Gran Memorial Traveling Trophy will be awarded. All area bridge players are invited to participate. Call Mini Sachen, (312)662-7204 for information and partner arrangements. The Bridge Center is located at 927 Grand Ave., Waukegan.

Remember servicemen

Thousands of U.S. Navy sailors and Marines will be spending the holidays far from their families and loved ones aboard ships in the Persian Gulf. Appreciation for their sacrifice can be shown by sending a holiday card or letter to a sailor or Marine serving his country at sea. Cards and letters (no packages) may be sent by first class mail, with a 22-cent stamp, to "Any U.S. sailor or Marine/Persian Gulf," ASU Bahrain, FPO, N.Y., 09542.

Brady announces bid for full circuit judge nineteenth Judicial Circuit Associate Judge Lawrence J. Brady has announced his bid as a democratic candidate to serve as a full Circuit Court Judge in the 19th Judicial Circuit of Lake and McHenry counties.

Brady has served as an associate judge since 1970. He is the only known democratic judge among 33 judges in the Lake and McHenry Circuit.

Brady, 46, resides in Crystal Lake with his wife and two daughters. He has been a lifelong resident of the area, graduating from McHenry High School in 1968. He graduated from the University of Illinois School in 1968 and worked in private practice in Crystal Lake. In 1970, he moved to Waukegan and served in the same practice until his judicial appointment. During his 10 years as an associate judge, Brady presided in all types of cases ranging from criminal claims to criminal cases less homicide. Presently, he serves as one of the two presiding

Since 1986 Brady has served on the board of directors of the Illinois Judge's Assn. In June 1987, Brady was honored by being selected as one of the 20 judges in the state to serve on the Long-Range Planning Committee for Illinois' 800 active judges and several hundred retired judges. Brady has received national recognition with an extensive biography in the current edition of "The American Bench." In a bar poll of 1987, Brady received among the highest ratings for judicial knowledge, ability, industry and integrity. In Brady's words, "I am grateful that my professional colleagues have assessed my professional credentials among the highest. I seek to bring strong credentials and solid experience to the citizens of Lake and McHenry counties as a full circuit judge."

Rainy weather hampers Antioch's Christmas spirit

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Rain, rain go away! Come again another year. And take the snow and sleet with you! This year has had the weirdest weather—we had months without rain and then months of rain. It sure doesn't make Christmas and Grass Lake School presenting "The Spirit of Christmas." Santa's elves sure kept busy at Santa's Secret Shop at Antioch Grade School, as students chose and purchased gifts for their families.

Next week promises more enjoyment with the Antioch High School concert at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 13, at the Regency Mall in Racine, Wis. Come up and enjoy them!

It seems like December needs to have twice as many days to go and hear all the music and do all the things that need doing this time of year.

The Antioch Junior Women held a "silent auction" at their December meeting to benefit the Antioch Rescue Squad.

The group meets the second Tuesday of each month from September through May at the First National Bank of Antioch. Interested women are invited to attend. For more information, call (312) 395-4104.

Special thanks from W. C. Petty School students to the Antioch Lions Club for special large-print books; the Antioch Mental Health Assn. for a $500 donation for special education items; and to Betty A. Caldwell for a donation of $200 for library books on behalf of her granddaughter, Nicole Bonds.

Don't despair; you'll get everything done in time for the holidays. Somehow, you always do!

shopping any easier. Only 13 shopping days until Christmas—are you ready for the big day?

The past week sure was a feast for the ears with the "Messiah" at St. Peter's Grade School Christmas Choral Concert, the Antioch Grade School fifth graders at Lakehurst, Christmas Festival of Chorus and Instrumental Music at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 12, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 13. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students, available at the door.

Luvabulls to host big Super Bowl Party '88

The Chicago Luvabulls are hosting Super Bowl Party '88, the annual football fest at McCormick Place on Jan. 31, 1988, to benefit Little City's boys and girls who are mentally retarded or developmentally disabled.

Hundreds of fun-loving football fans will enjoy the annual epic battle between the gridiron's two best teams on a giant 35-foot movie screen. The party begins at 3:30 p.m. And there's not a bad seat in the house.

The price of admission includes VIP parking and a non-stop flow of food and drink. A sports auction, special prizes for everyone, drawings for great hotel weekends and dinners at fine restaurants, and more will be the half-time entertainment.

General chairmen are James M. Hogan, recording secretary, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 714 and Michael P. Hogan, president, National Show Services Inc.. Ron Laverdure, president of "K" Concrete of Wauconda, is chairman.

Tickets, which are tax-deductible to the extent provided by the law, are $125 each or $1,250 for a table of 10. For reservations and information, call the Super Bowl Hotline at (312) 282-2207.

Offer emotional counseling

The Lake County Health Dept. Mental Health Division offers walk-in and telephone crisis counseling and referrals for Lake County residents experiencing emotional stress. This service is offered at no charge. The address is 1819 27th St., Zion. Counselors are available after 5 p.m. weekdays and around the clock on weekends. Call (312) 872-4242.

Star light, star bright

Just what exactly was the Star of Bethlehem? According to National Wildlife magazine, the current leading theory is that the star was a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn. When such a conjunction occurs, the two planets sometimes look like one bright star to observers on earth. Other theories claim the famous orb was a supernova (dying star) or a comet. And, still another theory says the Star of Bethlehem was simply a miracle.

Long Grove gets computer

An expenditure of $5,996 was approved for a computer update system for the Long Grove Village Hall. The system will compile and store information on village business.

The old system is not adequate to handle the job, and the update includes tripling of memory capacity from 10 megabites to 30 megabites. Also included in the purchase are a laser printer to save printing costs, and a software package for desktop publishing.

Back-up support for the system, including set-up and follow-up on problems, will be provided by ICV Data Systems in Mundelein, which has provided good service in the past.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Spikers compete

College of Lake County's volleyball tournament attracted eight Lake County teams.

Mattco won the tournament after winning its pool by defeating the Sun Jammers.

Other teams competing were: Air Piracy, Cutters, Fogcutters, Jan's, and Val's.

Funds from the entry fees will help support the CLC women's softball team's spring trip to Texas.

Fast learners

Round Lake and Grant's freshmen basketball coaches, no matter what happens this year, can look forward to some good, young players next year from McGee Middle School and Shady Lane School.

The eighth grade Gold team at McGee finished 10-4 on the year and won a junior high tournament at St. Josephs.

In the first game, Round Lake topped St. Peters 31-20. Scott Bolling had 11 points, Jeff Martenson nine and Rick Valle eight.

McGee then beat St. John's 38-29. Pat McCue had 11, and Chris Mullally 10.

In the title game, McGee edged St. Thomas of Crystal Lake 48-43. Scott Volling single-handedly beat St. Thomas, scoring 30 of his team's 48 points. McCue had eight and Mortenson seven for McGee.

Meanwhile at Shady Lane School in Fox Lake, the eighth graders there ended their junior high career by going 15-1 and winning the conference championship. The Shady Lane players will be attending Grant High School next year.

Tourney champs

The College of Lake County's mens basketball team will probably be making a return trip to Harper's Thanksgiving tournament next year.

The Lancers took home the first-place honors in their first appearance at Harper. CLC beat Meramec 70-68 in overtime to win the title. CLC beat the host Hawks 75-70.

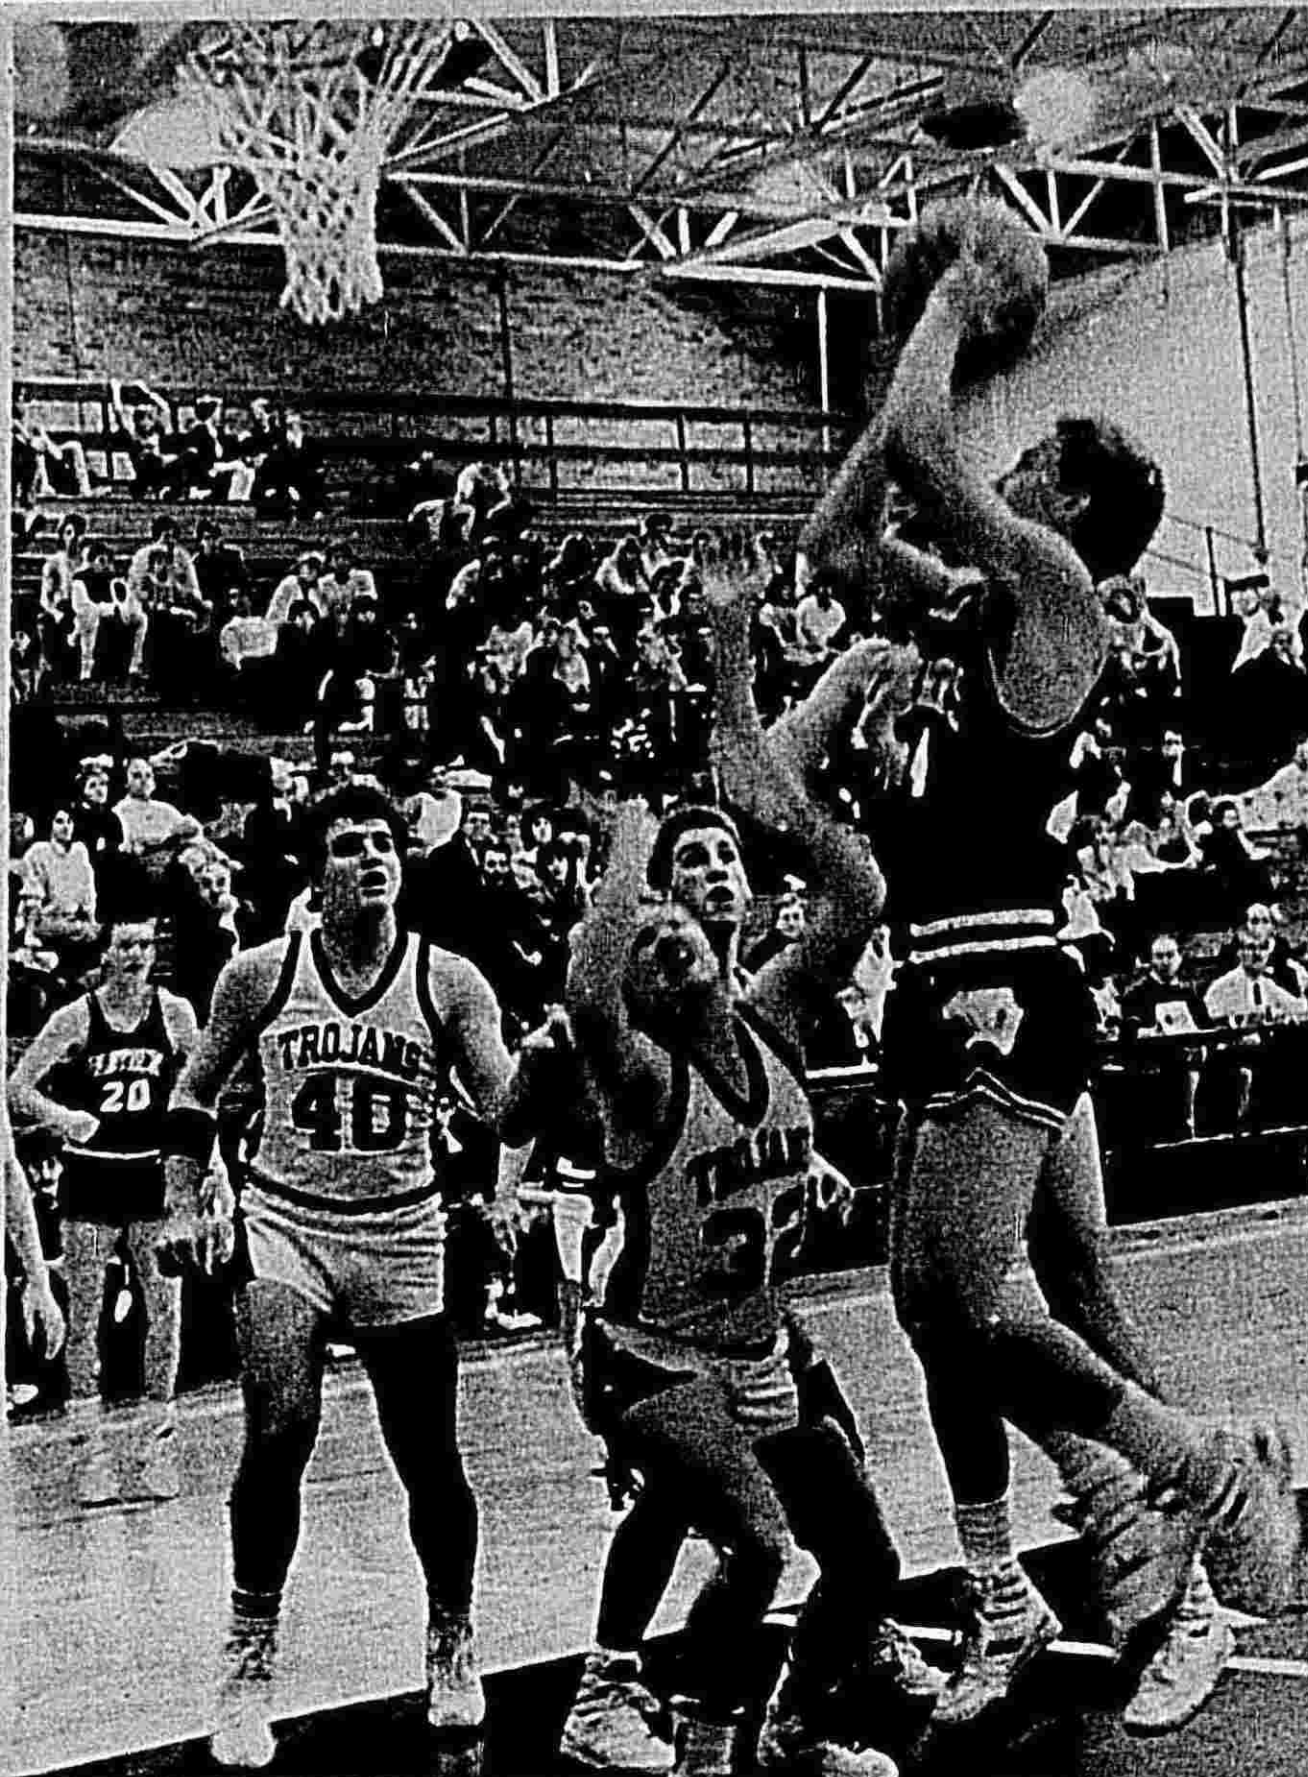

A Mike Scribner jump shot with one minute left in overtime, a clutch steal and layup with less than a minute left secured the title. Robert Bell led CLC in the title clash with 18 points. Don Kiesgen, a Grant graduate, had 15 points and Don Gunther 12. Kiesgen had 12 rebounds and Bell eight.

Against Harper, Mike Fishel led the Lancers with 15 points. Gunther had 14 points to compliment nine rebounds and nine assists. Bell had 14 and Joel Elfering and Ed Beskow had 10 apiece. Kiesgen and Gunther both had nine rebounds each. Elfering had seven assists.

Tourney all set

The tournament committee of The Knights of Columbus Our Lady of Rosary Council No. 8214 of Grayslake and Round Lake will be hosting a second Mid-Season Lake County Eighth grade basketball and cheerleading championships.

First-round games will be played starting at 9 a.m. on Dec. 19. All games will be played at Round Lake Senior High School. The second-round games will be played Dec. 20 with the "Final Four" contests set for Dec. 27. The cheerleading competition will also take place Dec. 27.

Sullinger closes in Round Lake's Adam Sullinger closes in for two more points in contest at Cary-Grove. Round Lake, winners in the Northwest Suburban Conference opener over Wauconda, will host Lake Zurich Dec. 11. Game time at Round Lake is 7:30 p.m.

Panthers, Bears clash in key contest

Defense.

That will be the name of the game when Lake Zurich and Round Lake clash in a battle for early-season Northwest Suburban Conference momentum Dec. 11. Game time at Round Lake is 7:30 p.m.

Both teams are coming off strong defensive showings when it counted in NWSC openers. The Panthers blitzed Wauconda 61-45 while the Bears dominated visiting Marian Central in a 73-45 win. The two teams played almost identical games in wins over non-conference Cary-Grove last week, with the Bears winning 59-56 and the Panthers coming home 65-51 winners.

Both Round Lake coach Bob Ward and Lake Zurich mentor John Nesheim feel their teams are headed in the right direction.

"We're 4-1 and we are still trying to get to the point of some consistency. I'm pleased where we're at right now," Ward said.

"We're still not smooth but the kids have worked hard and we are making progress," Nesheim said of the 3-3 Bears.

In Round Lake's win over Wauconda, the Panthers led 15-8 after one and 38-16 at halftime.

"I thought we played a good first half of defense that was such that they could not get good shot selection," Ward said.

Round Lake's Frank Russell played a "complete" game, Ward said. Russell not only led Panther scorers with 19 points, but had two three-point shots, eight assists and seven steals.

Adam Sullinger and Tim Dunn both had 10 points for the winners.

"Lake Zurich played a real good second half against Marian," Ward said of the Bears.

And Nesheim will be agreeable on that point. The Bears trailed 26-24 at halftime before exploding for 25 third-quarter points while holding the Hurricanes to 11. Scott Krzeminski had 23 points on 10 field goals for the winners.

At Cary-Grove the next night, the Bears found themselves in a deep hole after three quarters. Cary two three-point field goals to boost a three-point lead to nine, 44-35, after three quarters. Two free throws to start the fourth quarter by Todd McDillon increased the margin to a what-looked-like an insurmountable 11 points.

"We were at the point where you make one more run or you throw in the towel," Nesheim said.

Lake Zurich used a stingy defense that held frustrated Cary scoreless for the next six minutes from the field while LZ caught up.

A bucket by Krzeminski for two of his 13 points tied the game at 46-46 with 4:11 left. A layup by Troy Hines, had 10 points, put the visitors ahead for good.

The turnaround was so dramatic that, when Troy Ong hit a free-throw with 1:40 left, LZ led 56-49. Ong led the Bears with 20 points.

A few days earlier, Round Lake found itself trailing the Trojans by as many as 12 points midway through the second quarter.

Carmel set for critical weekend

Carmel's basketball fans will have a chance to see their favorites in two home games this weekend and as far as coach Scott Rosberg is concerned, the contests are the most important to date.

"This will be a pivotal weekend for us. They are two fine teams and it will be a big test for us," Rosberg said.

Carmel will host East Suburban Catholic Conference foes St. Patrick Dec. 11 and St. Viator Dec. 12. Both games at the Mundelein school begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Corsairs come into the contest off a strong start in ESCC play, winning 54-50 last week at Joliet Catholic.

The league contest did not start well for Carmel, who trailed 18-5 after eight minutes. But a 16-9 Carmel advantage in the second quarter allowed the visitors to trim the Joliet Catholic lead to five points at halftime.

"We went to a little different look on our man-to-man press. They started to stall when they got up by 16 points at 26-10 and we made them turn the ball over a few times," Rosberg said.

The coach credited junior Eric Bruksch, Chris Mikrut and Kevin Talz with applying solid defensive pressure.

Both teams kicked the intensity level up a notch or two in the second half, Rosberg said.

Scott Stahoviak led Carmel with 19 points and Talz contributed 12.

Carmel gained a lead with less than a minute left at 52-50. Then, the Corsairs ran a delayed offense and called timeout with 30 seconds left. Bruksch then sank two key free throws to double the lead.

The Hilltoppers tried a three-point play but missed.

"Defense is where it came from," Rosberg said of the key element in the final few seconds.

Using a pressing defense, Round Lake rallied to cut it to 25-23 on two Russell free throws. Cary recovered to up its lead to 30-25 at halftime, but the message was clear.

Round Lake still trailed by as many as eight points in the third quarter when Ted Rohwling connected on a three-pointer. The rally then began for Round Lake. An offensive rebound basket by Jeff Shook trimmed the margin to 40-37 CG after three.

Bob Ward

The Panthers then outscored Cary 9-1 to for the first four minutes of the final quarter to claim an eight-point lead.

Cary rallied to come to within two points twice, but Round Lake made six of seven free throws in the final 2:30 to secure the win.

Russell had 21 points to lead Round Lake, 13 in the fourth quarter. Dunn contributed 10 points to the cause.

Grant, Wauconda look for strong starts in loop clash

Grant and Wauconda will both be looking for the same thing when the two teams collide at Grant's gym Dec. 11.

A better first quarter will be high on the priority list of both Grant coach Tom Maple and Wauconda's Charles Walsh. Poor starts led to Grant's 53-43 loss at Marengo and Wauconda's 61-45 loss at Round Lake.

"It's important for us to get back into the win column and play well," Maple, whose team is 2-2 overall, said.

Grant, the defending NWSC champions, will be facing a small Wauconda team but Wauconda does have some hot outside shooters led by Matt Sutherland and Chuck Cermak.

At Marengo, Grant was held to 13 first-half points on six-for-19 shooting from the field and missing eight of nine free throws. "I don't remember the last time a Grant team was held to 13 points in a half," Maple said.

Grant came out stronger after halftime. "We had a spurt after halftime but we lost any momentum we had," Maple said. Marengo ended up winning the quarter 13-11.

Grant then made its stand. Taking over on the boards, the visitors held the Indians to 11 fourth-quarter points while scoring 19.

"We applied more pressure. The kids gave an outstanding defensive effort," Maple said.

The closest Grant came was eight points with just over a minute to go.

Tony Culotta led Grant with 16 points. John Wilhelm contributed nine.

Trent Pace had 13 points for Marengo and Dan Wilke had 10.

Wauconda, meanwhile, fell behind 15-8 after one and 38-16 at halftime. Wauconda won the third and fourth quarters, but the 22-point lead was too much to overcome.

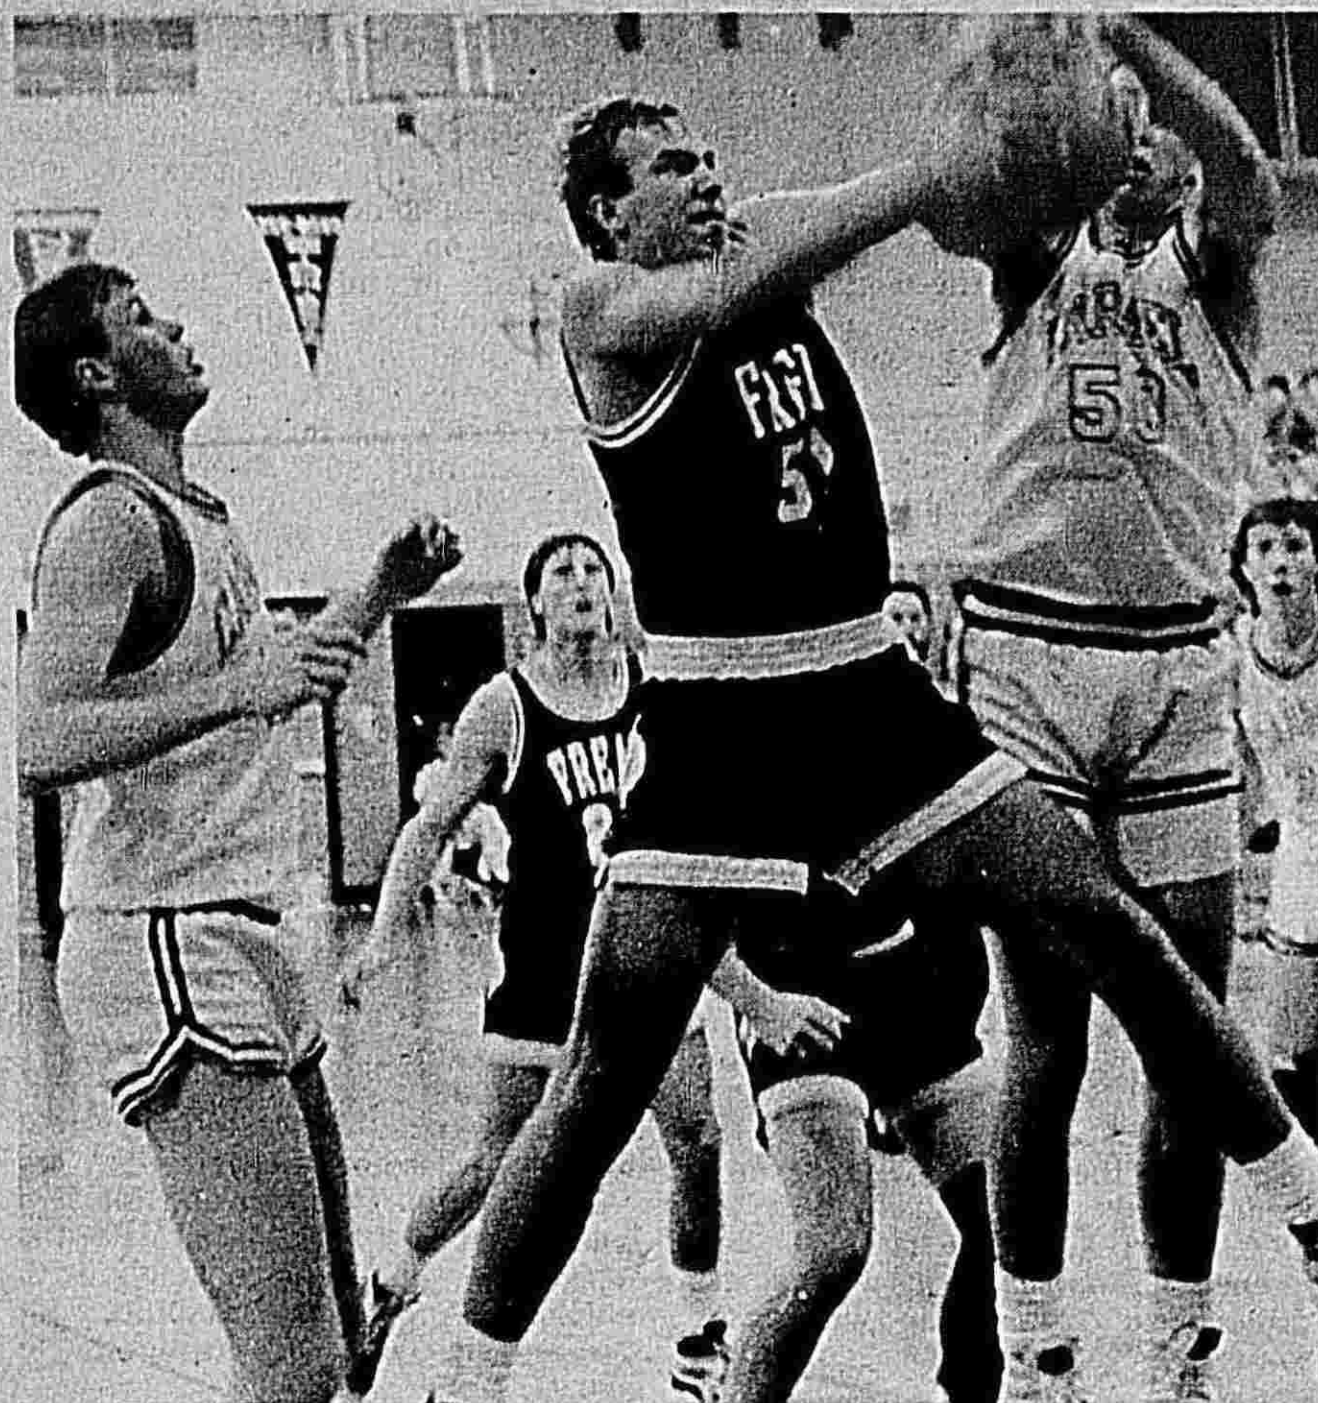

Sutherland had 16 points and Cermak had 15, including three three-point shots.

Following the Wauconda battle, Grant will host McHenry in a non-conference tilt.

"McHenry is a much-improved team from last year," Maple said.

Ban banners

According to ISHA rules, the display of signs, banners or placards at tournament games is prohibited. Managers of tournaments have been advised by the ISHA.

Battle of 50's

Carmel's Scott Stahoviak and Fremd's Dave Slain battle for control of rebound in game at Mundelein's Thanksgiving tournament. Carmel's Kevin Knight is ready to lend assistance to battle. Fremd won season opener, but Carmel won next two games.

Mustangs prepare for league's best

Some might say a win is a win, is a win.

Mundelein coach Dennis Kessel is not part of that 'some'.

"We played very badly. Zion-Benton is coming in with a 4-0 record and they were picked to win the conference. We will have to play much better to beat them," Kessel said.

Kessel was referring to Mundelein's 52-48 win at Fenton last week which evened the Mustangs' record at 2-2 overall and 1-0 in the North Suburban Conference. Following the home tangle Dec. 11 with the ZeeBees, Mundelein travels to Antioch Dec. 12 in a key NSC doubleheader.

"They're both big games. We have not played well at Antioch since I've been here," Kessel said.

Getting back to the win at Fenton, one might say the Mustangs were saved by the roof. A last-second shot by the Bison was ruled to have skimmed part of the roof at the Bensenville gym, and the refs ruled the ball was out-of-bounds. That allowed Mundelein to escape with a victory.

Mundelein was its own worst enemy on offense, as the visitors committed 24 turnovers.

Doug Sundell had 21 points for Mundelein. Jeff Fuller contributed 14 rebounds, 12 of them on the defensive side and Tim Ulrich had 10.

Kessel described Fenton as an improved team from a year ago. Three transfer players could make the Bison a force to be reckoned with this season.

Northwest girls teams all shooting for Marengo, title

Just like the boys coaches, Northwest Suburban Conference coaches, almost in unison, respond with one team as the team to beat for the league crown.

"Marengo," the coaches say. "Marengo will be the toughest team we will face. All the other teams will be kind of average," Lake Zurich coach Bob Allard said.

And the Indians have, thus far, showed they are the early favorite, beating contender Grant 50-48 in the league opener.

In addition to the Bulldogs, several area teams, including defending NWSC champion Lake Zurich, Round Lake, Grayslake, Johnsburg and Wauconda all will be shooting at the Indians now that the NWSC race has officially started. A look at each:

Grant: starting off the season with five straight losses, may not be the best way to contend, but the Bulldogs plan to.

"Last year we lost all three games in the Mundein tournament and ended up second in the conference," Grant coach Sue Richardson said.

The Bulldogs come into the NWSC stretch of the season with renewed vigor to take the league crown this time. "We really want to win the conference this year. This group has been with me four years now and winning the conference is one of our goals," she said.

Grant features Tammy Loring at forward and the senior does the bulk of Grant scoring. Loring led the Mundein Thanksgiving tournament in points. Juniors Lesley Mroz, a 5-10 junior and classmate Lisa Mieszanek, a 5-6 guard, are making steady progress. Stacy Starostovic, a 6-2 junior center, saw playing time on the varsity last year as a sophomore.

Richardson said one of her team's strengths, in addition to Loring's shooting touch, is height. "Last year, we got killed on the boards. This year we have some height."

Lake Zurich: the Bears are defending NWSC champs and showed Marian Central why in the league opener. The Bears topped the Hurricanes 48-41, using a strong second and third quarter to gain a lead.

NWSC Roundup

Laurie Hendrich led LZ with 22 points.

Outside of the Marian win, the Bears are off to a rough start, though, losing six of their first eight games. One telling statistic: the Bears are averaging 21 turnovers a game.

Experience is on the Bears' side with Heidi Wingard, a 5-10 center, with three years of varsity play behind her. Chris Ischinger, a 5-9 forward is a "real hustler," according to Allard.

Guards Lena Isacson and Marilyn Peterson are 5-3 and 5-5, but Allard is hoping they can replace height with quickness. Another guard, junior Kim Woosley, gives Allard three interchangeable guards.

Lake Zurich found out how much they have to work, though, losing to Cary-Grove 52-44 in a non-league battle Saturday. Trailing by as many as 12 points, the Bears rallied to trim the Cary lead to three points with just under two minutes left. But the Trojans, who made the state quarterfinals last year, showed their composure to outscored LZ 7-2 down the stretch to win. Heindrich had 18 points for the Bears, 13 in the second half. Peterson had 10.

Round Lake: the Panthers may be fielding a young team this winter, but that does not mean the players will be unaccustomed to winning. Round Lake won the sophomore title last season.

Two starters, Regina Meeks and Debby Amedio are coming off that team as juniors. Soph Cundie Donner is another underclassman who is seeing playing time.

Senior center Denise Kraly and guard Tina Walls give Round Lake experience.

"I think we'll be competitive in the conference," Round Lake coach Gary Edgesaid.

Grayslake: the Rams are starting a new era now that Lisa Coxon has graduated. Coach Brad Larson is now hoping the Rams spread out the scoring offensively while kicking it up a notch or two on defense.

"I've become more and more convinced that to succeed, you need to play real good man-to-man defense," Larson said.

Grayslake is hoping its offensive future lies in Nancy Brenner. Brenner, Larson said, is a good shooter from 12 feet and in. Brenner shot 44 percent last year and had 83 rebounds.

The only returning starter from last year's team is guard Kristi Blasius. Lisa Neff has been a starting forward for Grayslake.

Wauconda: the Bulldogs started the NWSC season off on a bright note, edging Round Lake 59-54.

Eight sophomores are on Wauconda's roster. Wauconda is led by senior Debbie Westergard, who was selected all-NWSC twice. Also returning are Jeannine LeLito and Racheal Smith.

Johnsburg: whatever happens, Johnsburg's Skyhawks already have a trophy to their credit. The Skyhawks won three games in their own tournament to claim the first-place trophy.

Johnsburg is hoping to improve on its 6-8, 9-15 finish last year. Jenny Blowers, a 5-6 senior, is the team's outside shooter. Carolyn Shine, at 6-0, figures to be a force inside.

Panthers face busy schedules

Round Lake's sports teams are facing a busy week ahead.

The Panthers' boys basketball team hosts Lake Zurich in a Northwest Suburban Conference battle Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. The Panthers next host Marengo Dec. 15 in a NWSC league tilt.

The wrestlers are at Lake Zurich Dec. 11 and are at Barrington Dec. 12.

The bowling squad is at the Streamwood tournament Dec. 12 and is at Grayslake in a NWSC battle Dec. 15.

Coach Gary Edge's girls basketball team is at Woodstock Dec. 14 and at Johnsburg Dec. 17 before competing at the Dundee-Crown tournament Dec. 28-30.

Stevenson returns home, Antioch seeking first win

The girls volleyball, basketball and boys' wrestling teams have all had their chances to play at Stevenson's new gymnasium.

Now it's Stevenson's boys basketball team's turn. The Patriots will be hoping to make it two straight in the North Suburban Conference when the Pats host Warren Dec. 11 and Niles North Dec. 12.

"It should be a great incentive for them,"

Stevenson coach George Katsich said of the upcoming battle with Warren.

Stevenson had just edged Antioch 48-44 in the first NSC battle for both teams. The Patriots, though, did not exactly finish in strong fashion. Trailing by as many as 16 points at one point, the host Sequoits rallied and the Pats had to win it by making key fourth-quarter free throws. Stevenson scored on a

Neary, a 6-0 senior guard, led Stevenson with 17 points and drew praise from Katsich. "He played a helluva game and really took charge," the coach said.

For Antioch, the contest marked the team's fourth straight loss. The Sequoits, who are at Niles North Dec. 11 and host Mundelein Dec. 12, trailed by 14 points at halftime and 16, 36-20, early in the third quarter.

"We had a lot of opportunities. We finally got the ball inside and that took pressure off the outside shooters," Antioch coach Don Zeman said.

Scott Gooch had 16 points to lead the Sequoits, but Antioch could not overcome Stevenson's 22-6 edge in points from the free-throw line.

The Sequoits, coming off three losses at a Thanksgiving tournament, took charge early, jumping off to a 9-3 lead in the first quarter. Stevenson was forced to take a timeout midway through the quarter. The Pats must have listened, as they turned the deficit to a 15-11 lead after one.

Stevenson dominated the second quarter. The Pats extended the margin to 21-11 on a layup by Tyrone Oliver with 6:39 left. Six straight free throws in the final two minutes of the quarter gave the visitors a 32-18 halftime margin.

A Rob Anderson basket gave Stevenson its biggest cushion at 36-20, but Antioch halved that deficit in the final four minutes of the third quarter. Antioch trailed 38-30 entering the final quarter

The closest the Sequoits could come, after cutting the gap to five points on several occasions, was four at 43-49 on a bucket by Gooch.

Three turnovers and two missed free throws by Antioch allowed Stevenson to regroup over the last two minutes.

A three-point shot by guard Scott Frasch pulled Antioch to within five again at 47-42. Oliver then came up with a key block of a three-point shot to secure Stevenson's win.
